Navy Fighter Buzzes Airliner, 16 Die

Two View Crash In Midair

DC-3 Has Tail Slashed Off

FORT DIX, N. J., — (AP) — Sixteen persons were killed Saturday as a Memphis-bound airliner was chopped apart in the New Jersey skies by what witnesses described as a stunting navy fighter plane.

The airliner's left wing and tail were shorn off, and the crippled Eastern airlines DC-3 whirled into a farm pasture and burst into a wall of flame. The navy plane burrowed into the ground two miles away.

The charred bodies of twelve passengers and three crew members were strewn throughout the wreckage of the airliner. The pilot of the navy plane was found dead in a field beside an unopened parachute.

State police said they had reports from two witnesses who saw the two planes tangle high in the sky over the Fort Dix military reservation.

One was a pilot of a Piper Cub who said the navy fighter had buzzed his little craft and "stood me on my right wing for an instant" just before zooming into the airliner.

"The small plane appeared to strike the airliner on the left side just aft of the left wing," the Piper Cub pilot, George Humphries of Fair Haven, told investigators.

"Parts of the airplane were all over the sky, and I veered to my right. I saw the aircraft strike the ground amid a cloud of dust and flames."

SLASHES OFF TAIL

Another witness, farmer Harry Miller, said he saw the fighter plane take the tail off the airliner and send it into a spin

"The big plane took three turns and then the wing fell off," he said.

Pilots of two other commercial planes complained later at Miami that their airliners also had been "buzzed" by navy aircraft while flying over the New Jersey area Saturday.

The dead were taken from the scattered wreckage last night and placed in three funeral homes throughout this rural area. State police said that most of the dead were burned beyond recognition.

Included among the casualties was Howard Sanderson Le Roy, of Washington, D. C., a past president of Rotary International.

Among the 12 passengers who died in the airliner was a child riding with its parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Patzin.

Pilot of the airliner was Capt. L. R. Mathews of Flushing, Queens, N. Y. Others in the crew were the co-pilot, J. B. Simmons of Flushing, and flight attendant Peter Gableck of Jackson Heights in Queens.

Others listed on the passenger manifest were a Mrs. W. Andrews, no address: Miss G. Deholl of Albany, N. Y., Miss A. Sutherland of New York City; and Miss S. Shaw, Mrs. Jane Margeson, Mrs. M H Smith, Mrs. F Curry, and Miss June Griswold, all the latter without addresses.

Plunges to Fiery Death

CLEVELAND—(AP)—A 63-year-old Cleveland Heights man burned to death yesterday when he accidentally tumbled into the suburb's garbage incinerator.

Peter Fasciano, a city employe, was hunting lettuce for his rabbits when he fell in.

Workers, unaware of Fasciano's presence, were unloading garbage into the incinerator from trucks. A load of the refuse struck the man and pushed him into the 1600-degree heat.

The incinerator is below the first floor.

He grabbed a broom shoved in at him, but the handle fell off. Then he lost consciousness.

FEEL EARTHQUAKE

LONG BEACH, Calif. — (AP) — A slight earthquake was felt in some portions of Long Beach at 1:10 p. m. PST Saturday. No damage was reported.

Amethyst Runs Red Gauntlet

LONDON —(AP)— The British sloop Amethyst ran a gauntlet of Chinese communist shore batteries down the Yangtze river Saturday and has rejoined the fleet, the admiralty announced last night.

An admiralty bulletin said it had received a signal from the Amethyst which said:

"Rejoined the fleet. No damage or casualties. God save the king."

The Amethyst was fired on at least twice in her downriver run to safety, the admiralty said.

ANCHORED SINCE APRIL

The Amethyst has been at anchor in the Yangtze river since last April 20, when she was shelled by Chinese communist shore batteries and ran aground on Rose island, 60 miles downstream from Nanking.

This was before the fall of Nanking to the communists.

Normally the Amethyst carries 192 men but only 86 were aboard when the sloop made its dash to freedom.

The Amethyst was one of four British warships that were fired on in the Yangtze last April. The gunfire killed 44 British sailors in all.

The admiralty announcement on the escape said the Amethyst managed to slip around an obsacle at Kinagyin and continued downstream. Kinagyin is about 55 miles from Nanking on the way to the East China Sea.

The admiralty said it had been advised by the commander-in-chief of the Far East naval forces that when the Amethyst slipped her moorings in her escape try she immediately came under fire of shore guns.

She was again fired on at Kinagyin forts.

The admiralty said the commander-in-chief concluded his message:

"Our hopes are high, and all are indeed proud of her feat."

New Pastors Named Here

A. J Staats, present pastor of the Free Methodist church on Woodland avenue was appointed to the Free Methodist church in Caldwell, in Noble county yesterday. The new pastor of the Mansfield and Mt Vernon congregations will be W. M. Bates.

The appointments were made at the annual Free Methodist conference which ends today in the church's grounds just east of the city. The group has been meeting since Tuesday.

C. G. Sayre was appointed to the Galion congregation.

Yesterday afternoon's session was a memorial service for members and pastors of Ohio Free Methodist churches who have died during the past year.

Honored at the service were 26 lay members and one pastor of the church who have died this year

G C Layne, of Youngstown delivered the tribute to lay members. A tribute to Rev. M. E. Snyder, former pastor of Sugar Creek church, was given by Rev. G. A. Hall, of Akron. Rev. S. B. Sams, of Kent, spoke briefly of Rev. Snyder's record of service to the church

Also included in yesterday's service was a tribute to six superannuate ministers given by Rev. O. L. Fowler, of Dayton.

Bishop C V. Fairbairn gave the prayer and benediction

The date for next year's conference was set for July 25 through July 30.

Bank Robbers Get $20,000 In Cash

NORTHFORK, W. Va.—(AP)—Two unmasked men held up the only bank in this little coal mining community Saturday and escaped with $20,500 in bills of $20 denomination or less.

First National Bank President E. W. Cook, who released the figure of the haul, said one of the men crowded him into the vault. The other held cashier E. B. Evans and two women employes at gunpoint in the lobby.

YOUNGEST GOLFER—It's a fairly safe bet to say that little Bethann Brannon, 419 West Fifth avenue, is the youngest golfer in Mansfield. Bethann, who celebrated her fourth birthday only last Sunday, visits a driving range once or twice a week to practice. Her father, H. C. Brannon, a trucker, cut down a number 2 iron to make a club the girl can handle. She averages about 35 yards on her drives. And although too young to be admitted to golf courses, she shows promise of posting some neat scores at a later date. In the picture, Brannon looks on critically as Bethann prepares to "belt one out."

Secret Jet Wins Race

British Plane Hits 550 MPH

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. — (AP) — One of Britain's newest hush-hush jet warplanes won a split-second victory Saturday in the Kemsley cup air race at Elmdon airport.

The plane, a Hawker P-1040, piloted by RAF Squadron Leader Neville Duke, went around the four-lap, 80-mile course in 16 minutes, 24 seconds. Duke's top speed was estimated at better than 550 miles an hour.

The Hawker had the highest handicap in the seven-plane race. Duke caught up with the others on the final straightaway and, his jets screaming, streaked past all six in the last five miles. He beat Capt. C. J. Cunningham, in a De Havilland jet Vampire, by one-hundredth of a second.

The entries included two Spitfires of Battle of Britain fame. The Vampire that placed second is one of the RAF's principal jet fighters.

Princess Margaret had her own Miles Whitney entered in another event, but the pilot, RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend, failed to qualify in the heats.

The spectators had a glimpse of an aviation pioneer along with the modern speed demons. The Bleriot monoplane that made the first flight across the English channel at the beginning of the century showed it still has a little zip left. It did a hop, skip and jump across the airport.

FIRST SINCE 1933

SACRAMENTO, Calif — (AP) — The streets of California's capital were wet Saturday—by the first July rain since 1933.

Major Proposals Before Lawmakers

Council Gets Rate Issue, Manager Plan

Two issues that could affect nearly ever resident of Mansfield will be before city council at its meeting Wednesday night.

The city's lawmakers are expected to take action on a formal protest against increased telephone rates and consider petitions for a vote in the fall on the council-manager form of government.

Council is scheduled to consider a general plan of fighting the Mansfield Telephone company's rate increase application.

City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch has said he will recommend a rate expert be hired by the city to work on its behalf.

A group of city officials will go to Columbus Tuesday, one day before the council meeting, to discuss the Telephone company's rate increase application with members of the Public Utilities Commission.

The company's application for a general rate increase was filed with the commission June 6 and now is under investigation by that body.

REPORT WEDNESDAY

A report on the findings of the group will be made to council Wednesday, Solicitor Kalbfleisch said.

The Citizens' Committee for Council-Manager plan will submit petitions to council to back up a request for an ordinance to place the issue on the November ballot, officers of the committee have announced.

The citizens' committee said it has 2,195 signatures on 96 petitions, well over the required 1,800.

The group seeks to replace Mansfield's mayor-council system with the newer city manager-council form of municipal government.

The question as it will appear on the ballot, will be "Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter?"

If a favorable vote is cast, the commission will draw up a charter for Mansfield with provisions for a manager-council form of government, officers of the group stated.

This charter will then be voted on by Mansfield's registered voters.

20 Collapse Fighting Fire

GIBBSBORO, N. J. — (AP) — A score or more firemen were felled by heat or fumes Saturday as fire and a series of explosions wrecked a storage lot of a big South Jersey paint manufacturing company.

Charles S. Hollinger, plant superintendent of John Lucas and company, placed the loss at about $100,000

The storage lot, which included loading platforms and a corrugated warehouse, contained an estimated 10,000 55-gallon drums of paints, varnishes, lacquer, oils and solvents.

She'll Swim In the Raw

Teen-Ager Bares Reason for Bare Body

DOVER, Eng. — (AP) — Pretty Shirley May France reached the white cliffs of Dover last night and disclosed why she'll try swimming the English channel in the nude

A bathing suit, said Coach Harry Boudakian, might chaff her skin.

The curvaceous American 16-year-old will try soon to beat Gertrude Ederle's record of 14 hours, 34 minutes for the 20 miles from Cap Gris Nez, France, to Dover.

The teen-ager from Somerset, Mass., will tackle Miss Ederle's 23-year-old record in another week or two, as weather and tides permit.

"I suggested that Shirley dive in nude because a suit will rub off the layers of grease used to protect her from the cold water," said Coach Boudakian. "With the grease gone, a garment would tend to chaff her tender skin."

Shirley May France

Some women channel swimmers strip after the first plunge, but that takes off some of the protective grease.

Shirley May and her corporation—it's incorporated under the law—came down from London by train Saturday.

Right away Shirley May met two of her rivals, Mrs. Willy Croes Van Rijsel, 31-year-old Dutch housewife, and Philip Mickman, 18, a Yorkshire schoolboy.

Both muffed channel swim attempts this week. They plan to try again. Meanwhile both were willing to give Shirley May some pointers on the grind ahead.

Mickman told Shirley May she will have to get accustomed to the cold water by gradual stages. Mrs Van Rijsel warned of stinging jelly fish.

Two More File for Board

4 Seeking 3 School Posts

The contest for Mansfield board of education posts became a four-way race yesterday when Richard Wolford, owner of the funeral home bearing his name, and R. Nelson Neff, a former school teacher, filed their nominating petitions.

Three vacancie are to be filled at the November election. Other candidates previously filed are Walton O. Leedy, who seeks re-election, and F. A. Berkey, of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company.

Other terms expiring this year, besides Leedy's, are those of Harold W. Arlin, board president, and A. H. Fankhauser. Both said they will not run again.

Wolford is seeking his first elective office. He received the Junior Chamber of Commerce award last spring for distinguished service to the community during the year 1948.

He heads the Richland county blood donor program, sponsored by the Red Cross. He is a graduate of Senior high school and Wittenberg college.

HEADS CIT OFFICE

Neff is employed as manager of the Universal CIT Credit corporation office in Mansfield. Previously, he worked for four years with the Office of Price Administration in Cleveland, and before that, taught history and social science in Mansfield junior high schools for seven years.

Neff was born in St. Clairsville in Belmont county. He is a member of the First Presbyterian church and Venus lodge, F. and A. M. He is president of the Prospect school P-TA and vice president of the Mansfield Little Theater.

He has served in the financial division of the Community Chest for the past three years, and last year headed the division.

Neff is married, has one child and lives at 619 Harter avenue. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for councilman from the First ward in the May primary.

Five other candidates filed petitions yesterday with the county election board. These included Loren Wiles and A. Clayton Eckert, both for Lexington school board; Howard A. Tupps, for Troy township trustee; Virgil Mayers, for Perry township trustee, and Chance Mishey, for Jefferson township trustee.

Deadline for filing for village, school board and township offices is 6:30 p. m. Aug. 10. Voters will elect three members to all city, county, and district school boards except one. Union Local school district voters will elect two members.

The villages will elect a complete slate of officers while two trustees will be elected in each of the 18 townships.

Potent Free Lunch Faces Lorain Rats

LORAIN —(AP)— For one full week city authorities have been feeding unwanted rats free hamburger.

Last night, they were to add a little free poison

The Pied Piper idea was thought up by Dr. J. C Riggin, health commissioner, and Wallace Chapla, service director, after complaints poured in about rats at an abandoned dump site here.

Health authorities decided the best way to rid the dump of the rodents was to feed them pure meat for a while, then slip some poison into it.

Jerusalem Rocked By Two Explosions

JERUSALEM — (AP) — Two thundering explosions shook southern Jerusalem Saturday and a large blaze was seen on Mount Zion, just outside the Arab-held oil city wall.

Israel officials had no explanation for the blasts. Some sources said they believed a fire on the Arab side of the boundary line exploded land mines.

Roof's Off, Then Comes The Deluge

OKLAHOMA CITY —(AP)— It looked like the perfect time to replace the roof, T. J. Tash decided.

Hadn't the weatherman called for hot, dry weather? And there had been no rain in a month.

Off came the roof.

The Tash family went to bed under the stars Friday night, knowing they'd have a new roof over its head the next day.

City Gets Respite as Rain Falls

Sunny Skies Seen for Today

It happened. After weeks of sizzling weather Mansfield caught its breath when the mercury dropped to a comfortable 80 degrees at 10:30 yesterday morning.

The rain which broke the hot spell was recorded by the Civil Aeronautics administration at Municipal airport at 1.22 inches.

By 10:30 last night the thermometer dipped to 61 degrees and was still falling.

The outlook for today showed promise for picnics and outings. The weatherman predicted clear and sunny skies with no rain in sight until late tomorrow.

Other parts of the country didn't have Mansfield's luck. The heat held on in the east. Portland, Me., recorded a sweltering 98 degrees, a new high for the year and seven degrees above the 40-year record for the date.

New York's temperature was 93 but was dropping late yesterday afternoon. Cleveland's low yesterday was 68 degrees and in Cincinnati it was one degree less.

The nation's capital didn't spoil its heat record. The city felt a 96-degree sun for most of the day.

Red Spies Using UN

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Testimony of a self-described former communist that Russia has used the United Nations to "reinforce" her spies in this country was made public last night by a Senate judiciary subcommittee.

The statement was made by Mrs. Ruth Fischer of New York City, a sister of Gerhart Eisler, the communist leader who jumped bond and skipped the country after being convicted of passport fraud.

Mrs. Fischer testified behind closed doors at a meeting of the Senate committee. She said she once was a leading member of the German communist party but broke with the communists in 1926 and became a United States citizen in 1947. She testified against Eisler at his trial.

In her hitherto secret testimony, she said that Soviet intelligence agents are hidden in the various Russian diplomatic, trade and other delegations that come to this country.

Ostensibly, she said, they are assigned to some routine function but their "real job is to report on various phases of American society to Moscow headquarters."

"Recently this corps has been reinforced by the UN delegations of Russia and her satellites," Mrs. Fischer said

Truman Escapes 'Imaginary' Heat

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman, who claims heat suffering here is mostly imagination, Saturday spent an hour and a half in or near the cooling waters of his mountain top swimming pool at Thurmont, Md.

The White House reported that Mr. Truman arose at 6 o'clock, took a walk before breakfast and then after reading the papers headed for the pool which is a special attraction at the presidential retreat in western Maryland.

Would Provide 400 Units

Application Forms Awaited

By ROBERT SCHWEITZ

Mansfield plans to ask for $1,000,000 in federal housing aid from the Public Housing administration, E. R. Friday, secretary-manager of the Mansfield Housing authority said last night.

Friday has already sent for PHA forms on which to apply for preliminary loans for surveys and planning. The district office in Detroit has responded that forms will be available in "just a few days," Friday said. A million-dollar project will provide about 400 family homes, according to an estimate that each unit will cost $2,500, the manager said.

"We're going after our share," Friday said. "We don't know how much we'll actually get, but there are two or three thousand persons in Mansfield who have applied for housing at our office."

"We have 500 applications now on file," Friday explained. "And they are the desperate cases, evictions and persons who have no other prospects for housing in sight. Our office has had only seven vacancies in two years."

No site for the project has been selected, Friday said. He pointed out that it would be necessary to make topographical surveys, and Mansfield will have to find out first how much money it can get before a suitable place is selected. Friday said the city may have to use two separate sites if a large enough single site is not available.

The housing will be of the permanent brick type, he said. It will probably be for low-income families with veterans getting first preference.

Friday said it will be a matter of weeks before all the necessary forms are processed and before the city will be able to find out how much money it can actually get.

The housing program in other cities has included tearing down slum areas to build the new structures.

The housing program is now in tangled legal complications in Washington, but Marshall Amis, general PHA counsel, said earlier this week that Ohio cities which want to participate in the program should go ahead and file applications despite the pending legal actions.

A waiver of rights to tax the property is required by the federal government before permitting any housing authority to share in the public housing fund. Question has been raised in Ohio whether a new state law permitting such waivers is constitutional.

Other Ohio cities have listed the following requirements for housing. Cleveland, 6,000 family units; Cincinnati, 2,850 units; Columbus, 1,548; Youngstown, 935; Struthers-Campbell, 350; Lorain, 310; Portsmouth, 250; and Elyria, 160 units.

Gen. Devers To Retire

FORT MONROE, Va — (AP) — Gen. Jacob L. Devers, chief, army field forces, will retire September 30, the public information office at Fort Monroe, site of AFF headquarters, announced Saturday.

The famed general will be 62 years old in September and an elaborate ceremony is expected for the formal retirement at the Fort.

In addition to the AFF participation, ranking officers from the fifth naval district headquarters at Norfolk, the transportation corps center at Fort Eustis, Langley Air Force base and Ninth Air Force headquarters are expected with federal government state and area dignitaries.

There was no indication as to who might succeed the general in directing activities of the army field forces.

He assumed command of the army ground forces headquarters at Fort Monroe on Oct. 1, 1946, and on March 15, 1948, the army department abolished the AGF and created the office of the chief of the army field forces. Gen Devers was named as its head.

Scientists Discover Wood-Rotting Secret

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Scientists finally have isolated a substance they believe sets off the rotting process in wood.

This opens two fields for research that may add billions of dollars to the value of American timber forests and wood products.

First, the scientists want to know more about the substance so they can use it to cause the disintegration of wood.

This could make it more profitable to convert many good substances, by simple natural processes, into valuable products.

For instance, sawdust might be converted to cattle feed. This is now being done, but by complicated, costly methods.

Also it would establish timber forests as a new major source for the "benzine" substances that are the basis of many synthetic products, such as DDT, the super insect killer.

Most of these benzine derivitives now come from oil, a non-renewable resource compared with timber.

Second, when science knows more about the new rot-triggering substance it may develop other substances that neutralize it and prevent wood from rotting, or at least slow down the process.

Wood is composed of two major parts, lignin and cellulose. Cellulose, or stalky fibers, may be broken down by methods known for some time.

But the exact chemical composition of lignin is unknown. This has limited science's knowledge about the rotting process.

But a group of scientists at the University of Maryland now has succeeded in growing certain fungi (micro-organisms) in a medium that contains lignin. These are the fungi that get on wood and obtain their energy by living on the lignin. And this apparently is what causes rot.

Dr. Sidney Gottlieb of the university staff said this is the first time these fungi have been cultivated in almost pure lignin.

First results indicate the fungi produce an enzyme, a chemical substance, that cuases the lignin to combine with oxygen. This is similar to the rotting process. This enzyme has been named lignin oxidase.

Dr. Gottlieb says the problem isn't solved because there is a reason to believe there are other enzymes, besides the one that has been isolated, that slow or speed up the rotting. These have not been identified.

The scientists have discovered that this lignin oxidase is produced from mushrooms, also a fungus.

This means it might be produced by cultivation. If it can be obtained in large quantities it might be used to speed the rotting process in sawdust or other waste products.

At present the waste has to be changed by chemical processes from one substance to another until a useful product is obtained. Rayon is one of these products. Sugar and alcohol are others.

Dr. Gottlieb says it may be possible to produce that rotting without resorting to outside products such as lignin oxidase. He says this may be done by producing certain conditions that would make the wood itself, and its lignin, speed up the process.

Thus nature itself may be made to do part of a job that now costs industries millions of dollars a year in factory expenses.

Doctor Gives Polio Advice

NEW YORK — (AP) — Dr Harry S. Mustard, health commissioner, has issued some advice to parents to help combat what he has termed a "mild epidemic" of infantile paralysis in New York City.

There have been 150 new cases of the disease reported here this week, raising the year's total to 306

Dr. Mustard advised parents to give "close attention" to the "personal hygiene of every child." He emphasized bathing at least once daily and keeping their hands clean.

He said children, particularly those under 10, should be kept out of large crowds, and should get ample rest and avoid fatigue.

He said mothers should be certain their hands are clean before feeding children.

"Above all," he said, "parents should not get panicky."

Dr. Mustard said that on the basis of past experience in epidemic years, "we can expect" a continued increase in polio cases through August and September.

Fireman Balks At Washing Dishes He Didn't Get Dirty

IRONTON — (AP) — Wash dishes at the fire station? Not unless he uses them, says City Fireman William Sanders.

Fireman Sanders—who cares no more about washing dishes than the next man—first was suspended then reinstated to the city fire department yesterday.

Dish-washing duty—as well as other small tasks incident to eating meals in a fire house—was back of the trouble.

It all will come in for a thorough discussion and investigation Monday night City Manager Henry M Stanley has summoned all firemen to attend a hearing in the fire house.

Sanders was suspended Wednesday by the city manager on recommendation of Fire Chief John McGerty.

Yesterday he restored the fireman to duty—saying he took the action after making a deeper study of the situation.

It seems Sanders frequently takes his lunch to the station—therefore maintaining that upon these occassons he does not have to wash the dishes

Sanders admitted to reporters he washes dishes at home—when his wife is ill or otherwise occupied—but that he felt it was not his duty to wash them at the station when he brought his own meals.

60 Stitches Needed To Close Knife Cuts

MARION — (AP) — Claude Napper was slashed so badly with a pen-knife in a fight with a neighbor Friday that 60 stitches were required to close the wounds

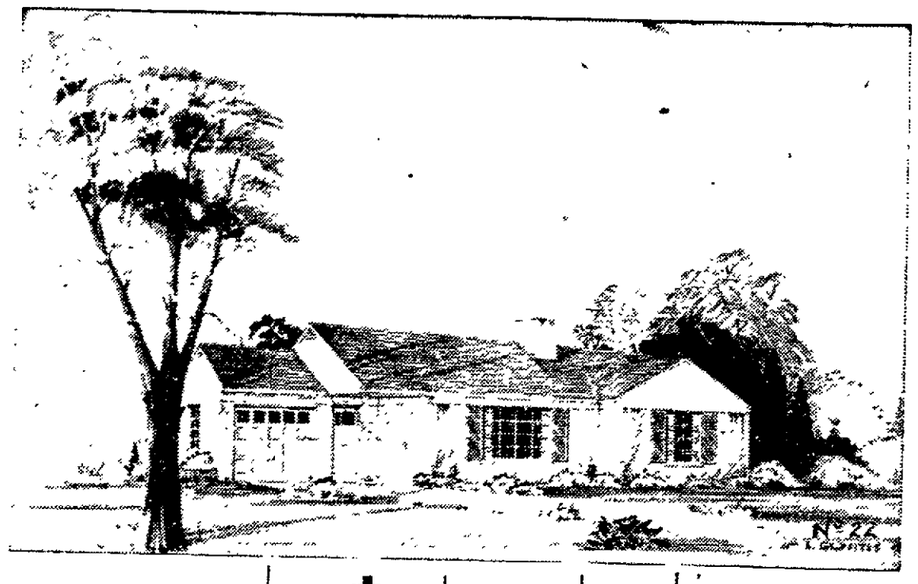
Police Chief W E Marks said the fight started when the neighbor objected because Napper's child cut a sliver off the neighbor's porch James Lee Bigsby, 35, was taken into custody for questioning.

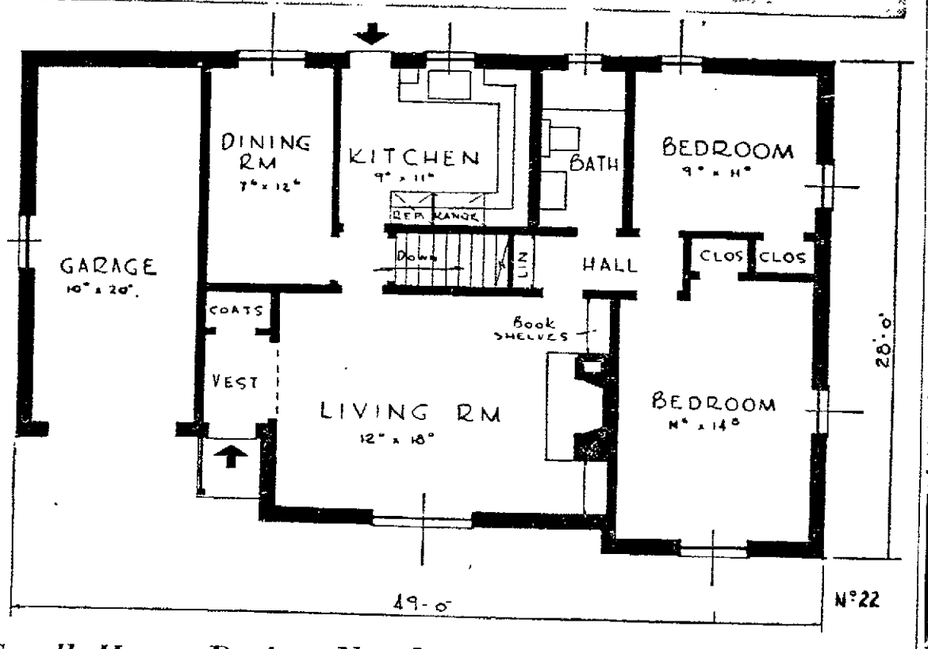
Plant Officers Sign Affidavits

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Timken Roller Bearing company officers and directors of Canton have filed non-communist affidavits with the government — even though the oaths are required only from union leaders under the Taft-Hartley act

Company President William E. Umstattd said in a letter to Secretary of Labor Tobin they believe officers and directors and "men charged with negotiating contracts with labor unions should sign anti-communist and anti-subversive oaths."

General Counsel Robert N Denham of the national labor relations board said he replied to Umstattd accepting the affidavits with pleasure He said they would be kept in the files as evidence of the "outstanding good faith and managerial cleanliness of your organization."





Small Home Design Number 22

Semi-Ranch Style Used In House Design

This is a small two bedroom semi-ranch style home that will appeal to many people. It could very easily be considered an expansible house if, at a later date, one or more bedrooms were needed.

This could be accomplished by extending the home on the side on which the two bedroom closets are located into two more bedrooms directly next to the two present bedrooms If this were done, new closets could be built for the first bedrooms in the wall between the old and the new bedrooms.

This house has been designed to be built of cinder or cement block, but would look equally attractive with brick or wood siding.

You enter directly into a vestibule with a large coat closet at one end To your right is a large living room, with a natural fireplace in one end and a large picture window in the front. Built-in book shelves are suggested on both sides of the fireplace, and there is ample room for furniture placement along the walls.

This home has a separate dining room which should appeal to those many families who still believe that there should be a separate room for dining purposes You go directly from the dining room or living room into the kitchen which would save a great many steps for the housewife in answering either the front or back doorbells.

The kitchen is U-shaped with an exceptionally large amount of work counters and storage shelves.

Near the fireplace is an entrance to a short hallway which leads directly into the bath, and from the bath to the two bedrooms. This makes it convenient for guests to use the bathroom. The two bedrooms are large and have storage wall closets with sliding doors and there is a linen closet directly outside the bathroom.

The stairs leading to the basement are centrally located, and this part of the house provides ample space for a modern laundry, recreation room and heater room.

The garage is attached, and one of the advantages of this home is that it could go either way on the lot. The way the house is shown here it should probably be built on a 65 ft. lot, but if the garage faced the street, it could be built on a 50 ft. lot with a turn going into the garage.

Complete building plans may be obtained by sending check or money order in the amount of $5.00 for the first set of plans and $2.50 for each additional set ordered at the same time to the Scale Model Home Planning Co., 819 Lafayette Bldg., Detroit 26, Michigan. Be sure to specify design number when ordering plans. The "Book of Small Home Designs" containing 26 small home designs and a great deal of valuable building information may be obtained for $1.00.

ONTARIO — Members of the Ontario 4—H Cooking club met last week at the home of their advisor, Mrs. Fullager, to plan exhibits at the fair. Betty Farst gave a demonstration on how to prepare cole slaw.

Rainmakers Still Trying

NEW YORK — (AP) — Scientific rainmaking with dry ice, now in its third summer, is still unable to make useful rain.

Control of the weather, predicted two years ago, not only is not tried, but now stands as a dangerous experiment.

The General Electric company scientists who discovered the rain making methods have gone back to their laboratories to study further the intricacies of clouds. They haven't given up, but their chief, Dr. Irving Langmuir, says:

"You can't make rain out of any old cloud, any old place, any old time."

He and his staff do believe that some useful sharpshooting for rain is going to be possible.

The United States weather bureau has just finished three rainmaking experiments, with the same negative results that they got last summer in Ohio when 150 attempts failed to show how to make rain of economic importance to farmers.

Trial Date Set In Murder of Woman

ATHENS — (AP) — John La Corte, 50, will go on trial in common pleas court here Sept. 6 on a charge of first-degree murder in the death of Mrs. Anna Lewis, 36.

La Corte was returned to Athens Friday from the Lima State hospital where psychiatrists found him legally sane. Mrs. Lewis was shot to death June 10 in a Glouster restaurant.

Red Cross Blood Donor Program To Be Stepped Up

Top Village Salary Is $620 Annually

The salaries of village officials in Richland county range from $24 to $620 a year, figures on file with the county election board show.

The low pay of some of the posts probably is partly to blame for the lack of interest in the community offices, election board officials said.

Filing for village, townships and school board officials has been slow, but the election board expects the pace to quicken as the Aug. 10 filing deadline approaches.

Plymouth pays its mayor $620 a year, while the Lucas mayor gets only $125. The pay scale of village officials follows:

Bellville—Mayor, $250; clerk, $320; treasurer, $140; councilmen, $24; and board of public affairs, $40.

Butler—Mayor, $150; clerk, $300; treasurer, $30; councilmen, $48; board of public affairs, $24.

Shiloh—Mayor, $500; clerk, $150; treasurer, $125; councilmen, $72; board of public affairs, $72.

Township trustees, on the other hand, are paid for the number of days worked, at the rate of $3.50 per day. However, the number of days allowed is limited in accordance with the township's budget.

If the budget is less than $10,000, then the trustees may be paid for work up to 100 days during the year. If the budget runs between $10,000 and $20,000, they can be paid for working up to 125 days a year.

In cases where the budget is over $20,000, the trustees can be paid for working up to 150 days per year. Township clerks, in cases where the township budget is less than $5,000, may receive up to $350 per year. Small townships usually set salaries at $100 or $150 per year.

Townships which have a budget of over $5,000 a year, in addition to the salary set, pay the clerk a sum which is two per cent of the expenditures over $5,000. The top limit is $600 per year.

School board members are paid at the rate of $2 per meeting. In addition, members of the Richland county school board receive mileage. The $2 fee per meeting is only for the first 10 meetings of the year. Actually, boards usually hold as many as 20 meetings a year, County Supt. of Schools Boyd Robinson said.

Hope of House Donor Becomes Reality

Fredericktown Proud of Its New Public Library

By MARQUERITE MILLER

They've entered a new page in the local history down Fredericktown way.

Last week, the pretty little Knox county town proudly put up a sign — The Fredericktown Dennis Memorial Library.

The sign went up above the porch steps to red brick semi-bungalow on South Main street, former home of Mrs. Ella Dennis. Civic - minded Mrs. Dennis bequeathed her home to the city in 1938.

Nothing was actively done about the gift for 11 years. Then late last spring, the townspeople got busy. Mrs. D. E. Wintermute, assigned as librarian, would "like to hear what Ella would say about the house now."

Most of the people in Fredericktown have a good notion that Ella would be very well pleased with the attractive, home-like atmosphere of the library.

A week ago Saturday they held the "grand opening." That night 69 books went out on the "first loans". Although the library is open only on Wednesdays and Saturdays, there's every belief (and hope) that the doors will be opened most evenings next fall when school opens.

There are several names that should go down on that page reserved for Fredericktown's first library. These include Mrs. Kelly Walter, responsible for the attractive decorating and furnishing of the library; Mrs. Charles Alspach for the handsome drapes and Herman Pickleman, Fredericktown cabinet maker who fashioned the 326 feet of handsome walnut shelving in the adult and teen - aged reading rooms.

Sun - Glow Industries in Fredericktown, also became a benefactor of the cause by donating the end tables and magazine racks.

The library, which will be operated under the Mt. Vernon staff, is a far cry from the corner of books in the B. M. Meredith furniture store which was formerly a branch of the Mt. Vernon library.

There are even facilities for club meetings in the council room, just behind the adult reading space, and the townspeople hope someone will donate a hot plate and work table for the kitchen so that refreshments may be served if a club so desires.

The adult reading room bears a striking resemblance to a library of a spacious modern home. Being the original living room of the Dennis home, the room's charm has been brought out by Mrs. Walter through the use of pale green walls and ceiling.

Atop Mrs. Alspach's neutral drapes, Mrs. Walter hung dark green valance boards made of ply wood and stenciled with dabs of gilt paint. The old red brick in the fireplace were transformed into a focal spot in the room by Mrs. Walter's artistry with the paint brush. Bowls of ivy top the mantel, centered with a gold-touched mirror.

By using sectional pieces of plastic-covered furniture, Mrs. Walter transformed what might have been a drab "reading room" into an inviting alcove. The furniture includes settees in rust, bright green and yellow. Occasional shelves around the room lined with yellow pick up the bright modern note.

On the far end of the living room, Mrs. Wintermute's blond oak desk of modern design carries out the theme and leads the eye into an inviting children's room. Through second hand store purchases, plus her agility with the paint brush, Mrs. Walter has succeeded in making the room a favorite place for the kiddies.

To date, there's not too much the townsfolk can brag about in the matter of literature offered, but they're hoping for donations or new purchases soon.

There are Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia, the Bible, the World Almanac and the Lincoln Library. That just about takes the place of the literature end. Most of the books offered are fiction with a predominance of Zane Grey for the children. Cook books and gardening editions take care of the references.

Federation Band To Perform In Ashland Band Shell

Summer Concert Series Ends Tonight

The Federation Band of the American Federation of Musicians, Local 159, will conclude its series of four summer concerts tonight with an outdoor program at the Guy C. Myers Memorial band shell, Brookside park, Ashland. The program will begin at 8:30 p. m.

The band, under the direction of Dr. Louis E. Pete of Ashland will be making its first appearance in Ashland. This year's three previous concerts and concerts of the past two seasons all have been presented in Mansfield.

Miss Elizabeth Pastor, Ashland concert pianist, will be the guest soloist. She will play "Cornish Rhapsody," by Hubert Bath, written for band and piano.

An all-Ashland vocal quartet will be featured with the band. Miss Patti Mosher, Mrs. Mary Walfgang, Edward Highman and Richard Kopp will sing "Voice of Freedom," as adapted from Rubenstein's Kamennoi-Ostrow, and "Battle Hymn of the Republic," arranged by Roy Ringwald.

Selections by the band will include marches, classical, semi-classical, and popular numbers.

The summer concerts are jointly sponsored by the City Recreation department and the musicians union.

The program will be broadcast over WATG-FM of Ashland

Elks Plan Aid Program

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The Ohio Elks association announced Saturday the appointment of a statewide, seven-member committee to draw up a program of future help to Ohio's cerebral palsy victims.

A training and treatment program for Ohio's spastics has been designated as the Elks' major health-welfare project for the next several years, State President John K. Maurer of Middletown said.

Norman Parr of New Philadelphia has been appointed chairman of the spastic paralysis committee with Charles Haslop of Newark selected as vice chairman.

Other members include Dr. E. J. McCormick, Toledo; George Kingdom, Conneaut; Walter Penry, Delaware; Ed Wright, Troy, and Marsh Sherer of Bowling Green who was named secretary of the committee.

Selected to serve as the committee's medical consultant was Dr. Judson Wilson of Columbus.

Parr said a preliminary survey conducted by the Ohio Elks showed thousands of young spastics have no programs of treatment or training available to them. State education officials estimate there are 10,000 spastics in the state and that 8700 of them are under the age of 22. The palsy results from a brain injury before, during or after birth.

Preliminary plans of Ohio Elks call for establishment of a program of education followed by work with health, education and welfare officials to set up a network of treatment and training centers throughout the state.

The program will be presented formally to the organization at its state convention late in August at Cedar Point.

Mansfielders Place 2nd In Rifle Match

The girls' rifle team of the co-educational YMCA Rifle club received a medal for placing second in the national championship rifle match, according to Maurice W. Taylor, general secretary of the 'Y.'

The match was a series of four meets in which the scores of the 763 teams were mailed to the National Rifle association. The "postal" scores were accumulated from meets held in November December, January and February.

Members of the rifle team were Beverly Hassinger, captain, Beverly Phallen, Frances Karas, Wilma Bonecutter and Carmella Greer. The Munhall, Pa., junior rifle team won the championship match with a score of 1980 points. The Mansfield team scored 1959 points to take second place. Third place was won by Upper Darby, Pa., last year's champions.

Wolford Outlines New Plan

Card System To Be Tried

A program to step up Mansfield's lagging Red Cross blood donor program will get under way Aug. 9, it was announced yesterday.

The city repeatedly has failed to meet its blood quota when the Red Cross Bloodmobile visited Mansfield.

Richard Wolford, newly-appointed chairman of the recruitment committee, will meet Aug. 9 to reorganize the donor recruitment project.

David Ott and Robert LeFevre, who are co-chairmen for the blood program for the county, will plan with Wolford an expanded and intensive program designed to enroll about 300 persons.

Under the three top chairmen, it is expected that eight divisional chairmen and a number of sub-divisional chairmen will help set up a county-wide program.

A program for recruiting blood donors will be initiated at General hispital at the same time.

Wolford said it is planned to accompany each blood transfusion with a card which a relative will be asked to sign, designating willingness to contribute blood for the next visit of the Bloodmobile to Mansfield.

"These cards also will be placed at the station on each floor and anyone wanting to donate may do so by signing a card," Wolford said.

RETURN CARDS

"These cards will be returned to the Red Cross for confirmation and personal contact and appointments will be made for the next Bloodmobile visit."

Wolford said 80 patients are receiving a total of 160 pints of blood within the five-week period between unit visits. An average of two pints is given to each patient receiving transfusions, although the individual contributions vary, he said.

"We are counting on at least 75 pints through the card medium at the hospital for every visit of the Bloodmobile here," Wolford said.

The Bloodmobile is expected to be in Mansfield again on Aug. 15 and 16.

No one person who agrees to work on the recruitment phase of the project will be asked to be responsible for more than five potential donors. In that way, Wolford said, it is hoped that a wider community interest will be fostered which will result in plenty of blood for use of Mansfield and Richland county residents.

'Chimes' To Be Feature

A varied program of standard and popular selections will be presented by Eugene Smart's studio accordion band and orchestra when the group gives their third summer concert of the season at North Lake park tonight.

The program, from the bandstand at the water's edge, will begin with the opening theme, "Chimes," at 8 p. m. and close with the band playing "Sleep."

One of the special numbers for tonight's program will be a novelty arrangement of "Dancing Tambourines," played by the accordion band.

Accordion soloists will be Kenneth Kalb and Kenneth Kreiger. The "accordionettes," a girls' accordion ensemble, also will play.

Jean Maurer, Elaine Wilkins, Erlinda Leverett, Sandra Byerly, Arlene Christman and Buddy Houston will be featured vocalists.

The program will be amplified throughout the park over a sound system furnished by S/Sgt. George Stupar, of the U. S. Marine recruiting office here.

The band concerts, sponsored by the North Lake Park association, will continue each Sunday evening through August. Last week a record crowd of nearly 1,000 attended the concert.

Rev. Lindbeck Talks Tonight

Rev. Arthur F. Lindbeck, pastor of Mayflower Congregational church, will conduct the fifth union vesper service at South park at 7 p. m. today.

His subject will be "Life Is What You Make It."

Music for the evening service will include "There Were Ninety and Nine," by Lane, sung by the church choir, under the direction of Miss Ruth Lindbeck, and a violin solo, "Moonlight Sonata," by Beethoven, played by Miss Lindbeck. Miss Martha Shiplet will be organist.

The outdoor services, sponsored by the Mansfield Ministerial association, are being held in South park for nine consecutive Sundays.

Plan Picnic Today

SHILOH — Members and families of the local Masonic lodge and Angelus chapter of Eastern Stars will picnic at 6:30 p. m. today in Mary Fate park in Plymouth.

Independence Wave Sweeps Huge Areas

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The pink-cheeked Icelandic fisherman, the slant-eyed worker in the rice paddies of Burma, the bush-haired Ethiopian herdsman—they and some 600,000,000 other men and women in 16 nations have celebrated a "Fourth of July" since World War II.

While 100,000,000 Europeans lost their political freedom behind the iron curtain, six times as many have won the right to completely or partially run their own governments.

The largest chunks of humanity to shake foreign rule were in British India — 450,000,000 and Britain, of all the centers of empire has freed more of her subjects to go it on their own than any other.

Most of the old British subjects have chosen to remain under the common roof of the British commonwealth, on equal voting terms as Canada is.

Most of the areas which have gained various degrees of political freedom have adopted British and American ideas.

Most have set up two-house parliaments. Most provide for presidents with terms of four to six years. Some limit their presidents to two terms. Some have prime ministers as well as presidents.

These are the new political "persons that have joined the family of nations:

SYRIA AND LEBANON

These small Arab States were chipped off the old Turkish empire after World War I. From 1920 to 1941 they were French protectorates. At the start of World War II— when the allies needed a friendly Arab world—the French military commander in the area signed an independence treaty.

ETHIOPIA

Early in World War II Ethiopia was taken by Italy. The British soon liberated the nation, with provision for British use of Ethiopian railroads. On May 25, 1944, the Ethiopians took back full control of their nation and set up a two-house parliment.

ICELAND

This little land of 134,000 people celebrated the 1000th anniversary of its parliament. But from 1814 of 1944 Ice and lived under Danish rule. On June 17, 1944, it proclaimed itself a republic.

INDO-CHINA

The shift here has been, and is painful. On Mar. 6, 1946, the old ruler, France recognized the republic of Viet Nam, to be formed from the five old divisions of Indo-China.

But war with communists still blurs the new republic's fate, and something like 100,000 French troops remain.

This month the Viet - Nammese formed a government. The leaders announced their intention of staying inside the French union.

Here, as in a few other areas, there is no clear-cut under-standing in Washington of the exact political privileges granted the individual citizen. The main change lies in the fact that nationals are running the government, although often with the advice of French experts.

THE PHILIPPINES

The United States ruled these islands from 1898 up to July 4, 1946, when they became an independent republic. The new government has given the U. S. a 99-year lease on military bases, and the U. S. voted them war-damage relief.

INDIA AND PAKISTAN

After more than two centuries of British rule, India, gained independence on Aug. 15, 1947, breaking up into two nations, India and Pakistan. Both chose to stay inside the British commonwealth.

Theirs was perhaps the most dramatic battle for sovereignty, led by little Mahatma Gandhi with his hunger strikes and his "passive resistance."

BURMA

This British colony became independent Jan. 4, 1948, in a treaty with the British. It chose to leave the British commonwealth and "absolved" the British of any further protection of the Burmese, who have been dominated by the British since 1612.

THE MALAYAN FEDERATION

This is a union of nine states, ruled by the British since the last century. In 1909 the British granted Malayans the right to run their home affairs. On Feb. 1, 1948, the Malays set up an independent government, with a provision that they will work with the advice of a British expert.

Under either British domination or rule since the 18th century, this rich island became a dominion on Feb. 4, 1948. It can run its home and foreign affairs as it wishes, but its leaders have announced they will conduct foreign affairs in line with the British, as do such other dominions as Australia and Canada.

KOREA

The history of this proud people goes back to the 12th century before Christ. They were annexed in 1910 by the Japanese and released in 1945 when American troops occupied Southern Korea and Russians in the north.

On Aug. 15, 1948, an independent government was set up in the American half under United Nations supervision. In the north the Russians have set up a puppet government.

IRELAND

The Irish Free State, after all its bloody battles with the British, achieved a consitution in 1922. But only since World War II has it cut the last tie with London. It denied the British king any further right to approve Irish diplomats.

PALESTINE

This old chip of the Turkish empire was a British protectorate from 1920 to 1948, with a British promise of a "Jewish home land" in Palestine. Jews translated that into a drive for an independent nation and gained it through a United Nations vote. But they lost a part of Palestine that the United Nations said should become another small Arab state.

INDONESIA

Since 1602 Dutch ruled these rich islands. During World War II, faced with a drive from freedom, former Queen Wilhelmina said Indonesia could have postwar political equality inside a Dutch commonwealth.

The Japs occupied the islands during the war. When they were driven out the Dutch and Indonesians remained at such odds that the United Nations intervened. There is still no clear cut governmental pattern. However, there is no doubt that Indonesians will gain some form of independence.

CYRENAICA

This is part of the old Italian African colony of Libya. Its Arab tribes case their lot with the allies in the war after a British pledge they would never again have to live under Italian rule. The fate of Libya still hangs fire, but the Cyrenaicans set up a government this year and London recognized it.

There are doubts among top American policy makers as to the virtue of so many small independent states. They point to the expense of government, courts, armies and the difficulties of trade in world areas broken up into small bits.

And there is the "cold war" worry over how many of the new governments can stand up under their communist minorities, particularly in the far east, if deep poverty remains a common misery.

Nevertheless these policy makers entertain no doubts of the importance of events leading eventually to a free vote for everyone in the world.

Sect Shifts Christmas To Hot July Day

DAYTON —(AP)— Perspiration rolled from the brows of a group decorating a Christmas tree here Friday in the Christian tabernacle while the mercury soared into the 90's.

Today it will be Christmas in July for members of the congregation—the fourth year it has celebrated Christmas on the Sunday nearest to July 25.

Helping in the tree-decorating was 11-year-old Larry Sorenson, who had never before seen a real Christmas tree. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Ed Sorenson, missionaries in Caimito, Cuba.

Rev. George E. Gardner, assistant pastor of the tabernacle, said the congregation also observes Christmas on Dec. 25.

He added: "The true Christmas has been submerged by commercialism. That, plus the fact historians never have established the birthday of Christ, led us to the decision to commemorate Christmas in July."

Czechs Reject Yugoslav Demand

PRAGUE — (AP) — The Czechoslovak government rejected Saturday a demand from Yugoslavia that it stop the Czech press from making hostile attacks against the Yugoslav people and the Tito government.

In the sharply-worded rejection, the Czech foreign ministry accused Yugoslavia of waging a continual hostile policy against both Czechoslovakia and the Soviet Union.

Rain Makes Fishing Better; Big Walleye's Best of Week

NEW PHILADELPHIA — Panfish were taken in large quantities and bass were striking well during the past week in Muskingum Watershed district lakes, according to conservancy officials.

Water temperature was high due to the scorching heat but rains throughout the district aided the cause of fishermen. Record catch of the week was an unconfirmed walleye weighing over eight pounds taken at Pleasant Hill Lake.

The Andreson Brothers, who took ove: the lake early this month and who will this fall build a new concession to replace the temporary one, said fingerling pickerel stocked in the lake this spring are thriving.

Many have been caught and are much larger than when they were placed in the lake. Next year, if highway improvements are completed, level of the lake will be raised three feet.

Meanwhile the district office reported numerous letters received from motor owners protesting any increase in the horsepower rating of motors from the maximum of six horsepower. Only at Pleasant Hill are large motors permitted but petitions are out asking for increased horsepower regulations on all the lakes. Protest letters are being received daily.

Visitors at Charles Mill lake brought an international flavor into the picture. Concessionaire Kenneth Wassem reported that Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Bond and son of San Juan, Puerto Rico, and F. D. Cowham of Watford, England, tried out the fishing there and liked it.

One of the best catches reported there was by H. A. Goodwin and son, Dawson, Mase Staton and Charles Rigby, all of Seville, who took 115 crappies and 25 blue gills. Jack Johnson, 12, Elgin, Ill., caught a 16-inch bass.

Patrol City As Feeling Runs High

Murder Arouses Texas Tempers

ALICE, Texas —(AP)—Five men blasted a dime-and-dance palace with shotgun fire before dawn Saturday, less than 24 hours after W. H. Mason, crusading radio commentator, had been slain.

The dance hall was unoccupied at the time.

Mason had criticized operation of the establishment in radio broadcasts and stated it was owned by Sam Smithwick, 60-year-old deputy sheriff.

Smithwick is in jail, charged with murder in connection with Mason's death. Smithwick jailed himself after the shooting Friday.

Public feeling ran high in this south Texas oil and cattle town near the great King ranch. Three Texas rangers patrolled the community to preserve order.

Ranger Ben Krueger and rangers Tully Seay of Carrizo Springs and Joe Bridges of Falfurrias, issued a stern warning Saturday afternoon, calling for public order.

The three have been patrolling Alice since Friday night. Rumors continue that Smithwick will be moved to another city.

District Attorney Sam Reams said Smithwick had made no attempt to obtain his freedom.

Reams added dryly: "I think if I were Smithwick, I wouldn't mind staying in jail a few days."

Mason, 51, who officers said was unarmed, was shot as he sat in his automobile on the southwestern edge of Alice, in an industrial section.

Mason was the program director of station KBKI and a veteran newspaperman who had worked on newspapers throughout the United States.

On Thursday, Mason had used his radio program to criticize the moral tone of a dime-and-dance palace. He said the place was owned by Smithwick.

District Attorney Reams said "There is considerable high feeling at Alice today." He added that Smithwick appeared considerably upset.

An examining trial for Smithwick is set for 10 a. m. Tuesday. The deputy pleaded innocent at an arraignment Friday. Funeral services and burial for Mason will be held in Alice today.

Reams said from nearby Falfurrias that: "I can tell you that we have statements from eyewitnesses."

FORD WARNS STRIKERS

DETROIT—(AP)—Ford told its 106,000 production workers Saturday they are likely to be out "a long time" if they carry out their strike threat.

Decision Delayed

No decision has been made yet whether sections of the Weldon building which burned in last Monday's $100,000 fire will be repaired or torn down William M. Weldon jr., owner of the building said last night.

Weldon had a conference with Fire Chief L. J. Steele yesterday, but reported that he will not know for several days what action will be taken.

Two doctors whose offices were damaged in the blaze have already moved to new offices in the Bird building, 65½ North Main street.

Dr. O. J. Marcus, chiropodist, has opened his office this week and Dr. B. W. Stern, dentist, said last night that his office would be open in the Bird building in about 10 days.

Other occupants of the building whose offices were damaged could not be reached last night for comment about their plans.

Pair Held In Unarmed Robbery

Tavern Patron Says He Lost $40

Charges were filed yesterday against a 23-year-old man and a 25-year-old woman in the $40 unarmed robbery of Blackman Lee of 633 Bowman street.

Sheriff's Deputy Roscoe Swartz, who aided the investigation, identified those charged in the robbery as Richard E. Umfleet of Perrysville, R. D. 1, and Dorothy Clark, 25, of Ontario, R. D. 6. Lee signed the affidavits and a hearing will be held early this week in municipal court.

Umfleet is held in county jail while the Clark woman is held in city jail. The two met Lee early yesterday in a tavern and then went for a ride out the Bowman street road, according to the story given deputies by Lee.

STRUCK ON HEAD

A fight ensued and Lee was struck with an unidentified object, resulting in a cut on the head, just behind the left ear. Lee told deputies. Lee claims the money was then taken from him and he was thrown out of the car.

He jumped on the running board and at the same time struck the windshield with his fist, breaking the glass and injuring his hand, he told the deputies.

The car stopped in front of a residence in the 700 block of Bowman street, where the fighting continued. Residents there called the sheriff's office.

Lee was taken to Mansfield General hospital, where a physician closed the cut on his head with three stitches. Deputies said the money was recovered. It was in the Clark woman's hat, they said.

Two Hurt In Auto Mishap

Two persons were injured slightly in an accident at the corner of U. S. Route 30 and Madison road in East Mansfield at 1:30 p. m. yesterday. A Yellow Stripe cab driven by Roy Horton, 31, 151 West Third street, in attempting to make a left turn into Madison collided with a car driven by Rev. Robert C. Bowen, 26, Montpelier.

Rev. Bowen received lacerations of the chin and nose and his four-year-old daughter Marjorie Ann received lacerations on the tongue and forehead. Both were treated and released at People's hospital.

House Sets Date for Opening B-36 Probe

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House armed services committee's long-heralded investigation of the B-36 bomber begins Aug. 9 with its first public hearing, Chairman Vinson (D.-Ga.) announced Saturday.

The committee also is free to inquire into national defense policies on strategic use of air power.

Among the first witnesses, Vinson added, will be Robert A. Lovett and Floyd Odlum. The latter controls the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft corporation, maker of the controversial six-engined B-36.

Lovett, now back in private life as a New York banker, was assistant secretary of war for air during World War II. He became under-secretary of state after the war, and resigned in January this year when General George C. Marshall resigned as secretary.

Vinson said the committee's special counsel, Joseph B. Keenan, and his staff have been assembling information several weeks.

The investigation was ordered June 8 by unanimous House vote after Rep. Van Zandt (R.-Pa.), a reserve Navy officer, told the House of what it called "disturbing reports" about the relations of Odlum, defense Secretary Johnson, and Air Secretary Symington. Van Zandt is a member of Vinson's committee.

AIR FORCE DARLING

The B-36 is now the heavyweight darling of the air force, supplanting the B-29 of atomic bombing fame.

The B-36 controversy has been a companion to the argument over whether the air force shall have the job of strategic bombing all to itself. Navy partisans claim that seagoing airmen should have a share in it, and they argue that big bombers based on carriers would have advantages over the air force's land-based giants.

The fight broke into the open in April shortly after Johnson cancelled work on a huge supercarrier, the United States, which the Navy hoped would put it into the strategic bombing business.

A month later, however, Johnson approved plans to modernize two carriers to enable them to launch heavier types of aircraft —presumably long-range bombers. He described the action—taken with President Truman's approval—as an answer to critics who charged cancellation of the super-carrier was a conspiracy "to sink the Navy's air arm or to reduce the Navy to a second-class role."

Steal Anti-Freeze

WASHINGTON — (AP) — On one of the hottest nights of a super-heated summer, a filling station here was robbed. The loot: 36 gallons of anti-freeze.

SWAN ANNOUNCES THE BABIES

—by Swan Cleaners

Dennis Edward Lux is his name and he is the brand new son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lux, 836 Forrest Drive. General Hospital was his birthplace, and he arrived on July 12, weighing 3 lbs., 6 ozs. Big brother Wayne says Dennis is "just what we ordered."

A wee bundle of cheer and happiness by the name of Marilyn Cristine Grier is now at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Grier, 78 E. Sixth St. This cute little miss arrived at General Hospital on July 16, weighing 6 lbs., 10 ozs.

One of the prettiest of the new season's diaper debs is Glenda Gay Guarino, endearing new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Guarino, Mansfield. Weighing 7 lbs., 5 ozs. when she arrived in Mansfield, Glenda Gay chose July 11 as her birthday.

Blue eyes and blond hair are the winning combination describing Thomas Edward Coe, pert new son of Ray and Jean Coe, 514½ Johns Ave. Arriving at General Hospital on July 13, Tom balanced the scales at an even 7 lbs.

A vivacious little maiden named Susan Leona Erndt has taken up residence at the home of her happy parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Erndt, Route 4, Reed Road. Susan made her first appearance at General Hospital on July 15 when she weighed 7 lbs., 5 ozs.

Jimmy Dillon, aged 20 months, is proudly telling everyone he has a new baby brother named Douglas Lloyd Dillon. Happy parents of these two, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Dillon, 593 Cline Ave., say Douglas arrived at General Hospital on July 16, weighing a husky 8 lbs., 10 ozs.

"Weighing in" at 7 lbs., 15 ozs., Michael Andrew Foss vocally announced himself at General Hospital on July 16. His proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Foss, Vernon Road, and they say Mike's big brother thinks he's pretty swell, too.

Betty and Bob Mellick are just about the proudest couple in Vetsville since the arrival of their twin sons, Michael and Mark Mellick on July 16. Weighing 4 lbs., 11 ozs. and 4 lbs., 13 ozs., respectively when they arrived at General Hospital, these cute little boys have dark eyes and loads of black hair.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Osborn, 42 Parkwood Blvd., have filled a pink bassinette with a little bundle of femininity named Vickie Osborn. At the time of her first public appearance at General Hospital on July 17, Vickie made the scales read 6 lbs., 6¼ ozs.

July 19 marked the birthdate of James Stanley Hoffman, handsome new son of Elizabeth and Glenn T. Hoffman, 509 Heineman Blvd. The scales at General Hospital recorded this lad's first weight as 7 lbs., 10½ ozs. Tommy, his 2½-year-old brother, is very proud of "Jamie," his baby brother.

A miniature heart throb at the home of Enester and Fletcher Landrum, 571 Daisy St., is their sweet new daughter, Linda Louise Landrum. Linda Lou weighed 6 lbs., 8 ozs. when she first sat on General Hospital scales, and she will celebrate her birthdays on July 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lamneck, 118 S. Indiana Ave., are proudly announcing the arrival of Dean Louis Lamneck, their brand new heir. Arriving at General Hospital on July 21, Dean first weighed 6 lbs., 14½ ozs.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Marshall, 215 Vernum Ave., beam with happiness when they describe their chubby new son, Jeffrey Eugene Marshall. Jeffrey was first heard at General Hospital on July 21, when he weighed 7 lbs., 8½ ozs.

July 21, 1950 will be the first birthday of James Anthony Wisenbarger, captivating new son of James and Dolores Wisenbarger, 512 Stewart Road. James arrived at General Hospital where his first weight was listed in the Baby Book as being 7 lbs., 15 ozs.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie W. DeWitt, 618 Parry St., is a very happy place since the arrival of their priceless new daughter, Linda Kay DeWitt. Little Miss DeWitt arrived on July 24 at General Hospital where she first weighed 6 lbs., 10½ ozs.

A tiny little miss named Jessie Bridiet Volz made her debut at General Hospital on July 24, weighing 5 lbs., 14 ozs. Jessie is the very proud possession of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Volz, Route 1.

Balancing the scales at 7 lbs., 7 ozs., Laurann Ellen Woerth made her initial appearance at General Hospital on July 24. Laurann's elated parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Woerth, 268 Greenlawn Ave.

Set Aug. 10 For Ashland Soil Project

Annual Conservation Demonstration Billed

ASHLAND — The farm at the Ashland county home will be scene of the second annual Ashland county conservation demonstration Wednesday, Aug. 10 when the event again is sponsored by the Farmers Bank of Ashland, Ashland Soil Conservation district and Ashland County Implement Dealers association.

With 2,500 spectators recorded at last year's demonstration, the sponsors anticipate an even larger attendance this year. Ladies of the Clearcreek church will serve lunch.

The large - scale one - day farm renovation project will accomplish what would normally take three months to complete.

Latest farm techniques will be demonstrated including contour lane construction, pasture rejuvenation, trash mulch, terrace building, lime spreading and waterway building.

A whirlwind terracer will be used in the waterway construction with standard farm equipment used for other projects. A loud speaker system will be used for explaining the demonstrations.

A county plowing elmination contest is to be a feature of the program, including straight and contour plowing. Local winners may compete in the state plowing contests.

Applications are available from the sponsoring bank, county conservation office and county extension office.

The annual demonstrations are a four - year project of the sponsors who expect to complete rehabilitation of the county home farm by the end of the four - year period.

Pattersons of Hayesville Hosts To Lengthy Family Affair

Week-Old Reunion Still Continuing

By BILL HERRING
News-Journal State Editor

HAYESVILLE — A family reunion of descendants of the Andrew Wylie Pattersons has taken the local spotlight for the past week. It is the first such family gathering since the one held 20 years ago in New Concord. It got underway a week ago Friday and finds the last ones departing tomorrow.

"Townsfolk jokingly refer to our lengthy reunion is one to end all family reunions," remarked George W. Patterson, one of the Hayesville hosts. "Naturally we feel differently and promise it won't be another 20 years before we all get together again."

The Pattersons scoff at usual one day family reunions for some of those attending the affair here have traveled from states far away. States other than Ohio that are represented include California, Arizona, New York, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

All six children of the Andrew W. Pattersons are attending this reunion. There are 81 eligible Patersons and more than half reported here for the social activities.

"The newest kin couldn't attend," Mrs. G. W. Patterson explained. "A daughter was born last Sunday in Bedford to Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Wilson. The father is a son of the only Andrew W. Patterson daughter, Mrs. J. Walker Wilson, of Beaver Falls, Pa."

The youngest of the six A. W. Patterson children is John. The others, in order of their birth, are: Mrs. J. W. Wilson, George H. of Hayesville, Fred of Peoria, Ariz., Samuel of Syracuse, N. Y., Andy of Cedar Glen, Calif., and John whose home is in Huntington, W. Va.

ATTEND REUNION IN HAYESVILLE—Here are last week's early arrivals at the family reunion of Andrew Wylie Patterson descendants in Hayesville. It was the first such reunion in 20 years and found more than half of the 81 Pattersons eligible to attend reporting. Seated in the middle row center are the six A. W. Patterson children. Reading, left to right and from the youngest member to the oldest, are: John, Andrew, Samuel, Fred, George and Mary, now Mrs. J. W. Wilson.

"We all answer to the name of 'Pat'," they chorused.

All but John attended the old Marion avenue school in Mansfield. John is the only member of the family born in Mansfield and was too young to attend school there before the family moved.

Mansfield looms large in the history of the Patterson daughter for her husband, J. W. Wilson, operated the J. Walker Wilson Machinery company in Beaver Falls that has been distributor of Gorman - Rupp products since the Mansfield concern was established.

The Pattersons are typical people that Artist Grant Woods sketches — tall, spare pioneer folk. The visiting family members are guests here of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Patterson, living side - by - side on North street and of Mr. and Mrs. Carol Patrick, also Hayesville kinfolk.

Andrew Wylie Patterson was born in Washington county in Pennsylvania but spend his boyhood in Adams county, Ohio, before moving to Muskingum and Guernsey counties. The old Patterson homestead still stands in Guernsey county with the last Patterson reunion held at New Concord 20 years ago.

Last week was a round of social gatherings honoring the Pattersons. Wednesday evening they enjoyed a party and dinner at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ritchie, north of here on Ashland. R. D. and on Thursday evening were feted by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mills in Doylestown. On Friday they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Calhoun at Savannah.

The social whirl was interrupted as the Pattersons visited family historic spots in southern Ohio. Some of their kin folk arrived Friday to complete the reunion roster and yesterday the first began departing. Several have driven more than 2,500 miles to attend and the drive, coupled with the lengthy stay here, played havoc with vacations.

All of the original six Patterson children have families and all have grandchildren. The sister, Mrs. J. W. Wilson, boasts the largest family of five children and 10 grandchildren.

Tube Placed In Bellville Bandstand

'Ensealing' Program Held Last Night

BELLVILLE — An "ensealing" program attracted community residents to this village's bandstand last night. A glass tube, containing pictures and historical data for the past 70 years, was inserted into a tile and ensealed in the cupola of the renovated bandstand.

The bandstand originally was built 70 years ago but has been remodeled and was rededicated July 4. It was given a new foundation, new floor, repaint job and other improvements.

Rev. John Pfahler, Methodist church pastor, gave the address. His subject was "The Living Past." A public address system was used during the program and a dance on Church street concluded the night's entertainment.

The high school band participated in the program, as did the Honey Creek Quartet. Mayor Charles L. Palm had one of the village's oldest residents present Bellville history to a member of the Boy Scouts as a program feature.

The invocation was given by Rev. H. R. Diesk and the benediction by Rev. Luther Buchholtz.

Quits Hotel Post

LOUDONVILLE — C. E. Reeves, manager of the Hotel Loudonville, since it was leased 18 months ago by John E. Hauck of Cleveland, has resigned his position and is planning to retire. Reeves' resignation is effective Aug. 1.

Among Finalists In Beauty Contest

BUCYRUS — Miss Vera Mead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mead of this city, was one of the nine finalists in a "Miss Washington D. C." beauty contest, her parents were informed yesterday.

Miss Mead, former secretary to High School Principal Edwin E. Gearhart, was one of the 47 original entrants in the contest and was not eliminated until the final round in which there were nine contestants.

The former Bucyrian is employed as a personnel classification clerk in the Navy department. While living here, she was soloist for Ken Bragg's dance orchestra of Mansfield.

Crawford Young GOP Unit Delays Election

BUCYRUS — Fifty members of the recently - organized Crawford County Young Republican club held a picnic last week at Roadside park, east of here, but delayed election of a board of directors until their next meeting in August.

J. G. Bonnar of Galion, club president, said the next meeting will be held Thursday night, Aug. 25, in Bucyrus.

Holmes Acting Librarian Sets Service Mark

MILLERSBURG — Mrs. Lida McClain has been in service of Holmes county public library since shortly after it opened in 1937, serving some of the time as acting librarian and at other times as assistant librarian, will relinquish her post as acting librarian Monday morning, to again become assistant librarian. Mrs. Mary Alice Fitch then will assume duties as Holmes county librarian.

Were it not for the endless service of Mrs. McClain the library might have been closed at intervals while some of the new librarians were being sought. At two different times she has had charge for a year at a time. During these times library work was carried on in an efficient manner, courtesy and order were evident and the library was clean and attractively arranged at all times.

Mrs. McClain does not hold a college degree required by the state in order that the local library may participate in state library aid. She is thoroughly acquainted with all phases of the work and has had charge of the library since June 1, 1948 when Miss Margaret Ann Jones resigned as Holmes county librarian to accept a position in the Akron Public Library. Her clerical assistant has been Miss Betty Tressell.

Petitions Lacking For School Board

LOUDONVILLE — With three persons to be elected on the Loudonville School Board, no petitions have been filed to date with the deadline falling on Aug. 10.

Officers whose positions expire are Rex Long, L. E. BeBout and A. G. Leber. Leber and BeBout are no longer members of the board, as they resigned and their positions were filled by appointing Burley Gray and Glenn Paisley.

Meet On Tuesday

LOUDONVILLE — The Hanover Grange will hold its annual baking and sewing contest on Tuesday evening in connection with their regular business meeting. The meeting will be at the new Grange Hall.

Elected Trustee Of Police Order

BUCYRUS — New third district trustee of the Ohio Fraternal Order of Police is Anton W. "Scoop" Spaeth, Bucyrus police department identification officer.

Spaeth was elected to one of the seven trustee posts in the state organization during the annual convention held last week in Cincinnati.

About 15 lodges are included in the third district, which has Lake Erie as its northern boundary and Marion and Knox counties on its south edge.

The Bucyrus officer has attended most of the annual conventions during the 12 years he has been a member of the organization.

Loudonville Gets New Gas Mains

LOUDONVILLE — The East Ohio Gas company, is engaged in laying new natural gas mains in different sections of the village for the last couple weeks to make gas pressure more even next winter.

The new mains will not only provide a greater flow of gas to starved sections but also will allow a more even pressure as they tie-in sections that have been previously fed by a single isolated line.

Millersburg Baptists Will Hear New Organ

LOUDONVILLE — Rev. A. D. Laman, of the local Baptist church, announced the congregation today will hear the new organ for the first time.

It will be dedicated formally Sept. 11.

The congregation has made many changes in the church this summer. Included are rebuilding the choir loft, and locating it above the pulpit in the center; redecorated the entire church, bought new carpet and reconditioned some of the class rooms.

Plymouth High's 1944 Class Plans Reunion Next Sunday

PLYMOUTH — Members of the 1944 graduating class of the local high school are planning their first reunion at Mary Fate park here on Sunday, Aug. 7.

Male members of the class are Thomas Moore, Dan Kirkpatrick, Quentin Ream, Junior Marvin, George Shaffer, Duane Hunter, Robert McKown, Sid Thomas, James Fetters, James C. Davis, Clarence Mills and James Rhine.

All the boys enlisted in their senior year, the first nine named joining the Navy, the next two joined the Army and the last one the Merchant Marine. All Navy enlistees had completed their boot training and returned to attend the school commencement exercises to receive their diplomas. The commencement date was arranged for their convenience.

The Mansfield recruiting officer, who accepted their enlistments, attended the commencement as did Superintendent E. L. Bailey. Bailey taught them as first graders and was superintendent when they graduated. He came over from Elyria at the time the boys were first graders.

Girl memberf of the class are Eyelyn Moore of Bucyrus, Phyllis Miller Sherck of Willard, Pfc. Jane Maryin of Chanute Field, Ill., Pearl Heubarger Springer of Shelby, Arline Steele Harrar of Shelby, Beverly Neely Biglin of Shelby, Mary Burrer Collins of Elyria, Sally Fenner of Mansfield, Louise Guadanino of Cleveland, Mary Alice Weller of Plymouth, Particia Topper Guthrie of Akron, Florence McDougla Dickinson, of Mt. Vernon and Mildred Harmon Evans of Shelby.

Loudonville Theater Installing New Lamps

LOUDONVILLE — The Ohio Theater here is having new carbon lamps installed. These latest lamps will give patrons pictures of unusual brightness and clarity.

The new screen lamps at this theater represent the first improvement in projection at the theater in nearly 20 years.

Ashland Professor Takes Texas Post

ASHLAND — Dr. Norman M. Ferguson, senior research chemist for Dr. Hess and Clark, Inc. and professor of chemistry at Ashland college for the past six years, leaves in August to accept the position of dean of the school of pharmacy at the University of Houston, Tex.

Former professor and department head at the St. Louis College of Pharmacy, Dr. Ferguson is a graduate of the St. Louis college and Washington university in St. Louis. He is co-author of a text on plant biochemistry as applied to medicine.

Send Crestline Pastor To Church In Beverly

CRESTLINE — Rev. Erskine White, who has been pastor of the Nazarene church, here for the past three years, has been transferred to the Nazarene church at Beverly, O.

Rev. White will be succeeded by Rev. A. J. Laird, who comes to Crestline from Galion, O. Rev. White and Mrs. White and their two children will leave Crestline Tuesday.

The change will be effective Sunday, Aug. 7.

PLAN OUTDOOR SERVICE

LOUDONVILLE — The annual outdoor service for Zion Lutheran church and Sunday school will be held here in Riverside park next Sunday at 10:30 a. m.

Area Cannery Closes Doors

BUCYRUS — Temporary closing of the community cannery at nearby Sulphur Springs was announced yesterday by cannery board members.

The cannery has been closed because it failed to pass an inspection by an insurance company representative. Earlier this year the plant was given an official okeh by an inspector of the State Health Department.

Cannery officials said Saturday an effort will be made to purchase a building and equipment. The cannery has been located in the rear of the Sulphur Springs consolidated school building.

Last year about 10,000 cans of vegetables and fruits were processed under a non-profit arrangement.

Entertain Today

MILLERSBURG — Mr. and Mrs. Karl Snyder, Fairview avenue will entertain Deputy Grand Matrons and their husbands and grand officers of the Order of Eastern Stars of the state of Ohio for the year 1945 at their home today. A dinner will be served at the noon hour.

Mrs. Snyder was deputy grand matron of district No. 4 in 1945.

Big 4 Rail Picnic Set For Sept. 11

Expect 15,000 At Indian Lake Affair

Mansfield area employes of the Big Four division of the New York Central system will be among 15,000 rail employes at the annual picnic and general outing of the railroad at Indian Lake on Sunday, Sept. 11.

D. A. Fawcett, of Cincinnati who is general manager, said special trains and special care on regular trains will carry NYC employes directly to Indian Lake.

The outing is sponsored annually by public relations groups of the railroad and affiliated organizations. Last year 12,000 attended. All facilities of the million dollar playground will be made available for the day

Avery Royer, of Bellefontaine, is general chairman. Others serving on the committee in charge include Fawcett as honorary chairman: G. W. Birk, assistant general manager, Indianapolis; L. A. Champ, superintendent, Springfield, and P. M. Wolfe, chairman of the transportation committee, Indianapolis.

Clothing Theft Value High, Ashland Finds

ASHLAND — Clothing valued at several thousand dollars was taken in last week's robbery of the Zimmerman dry cleaning plant, police reported yesterday after receiving an itemized list of the articles stolen.

Mrs. Ada Zimmerman operator of the plant, listed 22 suits, 40 pants, nine coats, 18 shirts, four sport coats, eight shirts, two sweaters, one shirt two jackets, two waists and two ties among he stolen articles.

Clothing stolen had been dry cleaned and was ready to return to the customers.

Police are working on the theory the theft was accomplished by an organized gang of clothing thieves. Loss of the clothing is covered by insurance, Mrs. Zimmerman told police.

Tiro Flying Farmer Builds Own Hangar

By CARL BAKER
N - J State Correspondent

TIRO — Among the many distinctions of this community is that of having one of the few flying farmers of this area and he is one of the oldest men to successfully adopt flying to his business.

The local flier is John Grove, 53 - year - old Auburn township farmer who recently purchased a light airplane. He now is putting the finishing touches on a new combination garage and hangar near his home on the Auburndale Farms at Auburn Center.

The garage will house the family automobile while the hangar will provide shelter for the new plane. The new building stands on the site of a garage building wrecked by the windstorm which struck the Auburn Center community in 1947.

Grove has a fine sod landing strip running north and south in the field east of the Grove home. It has been used by several planes besides his new craft.

While flying is his main recreation, the Auburn farmer says he only flies in the evening except for business reasons and reports he finds his plane a great help in expediting farming operations. For instance on Tuesday, while combining oats, something broke on the self propelled combine. Grove flew to Willard in about five minutes, secured a needed repair part and flew back in a few minutes. In case he would have driven in an auto several hours time would probably elapsed before the combine was back at work.

John Grove is a member of the Flying Farmer oganization and a week ago Saturday he flew his new plane to the Ohio Flying Farmers meeting held in Comumbus. He was accompanied by Clayton Albright, Monroeville, farmer and seed corn grower. Approximately 150 flying farmers were present at the meeting.

John Grove tours around the area every evening, spending about two hours in the air. It is a good way to cool off these hot summer days. He usually circles Tiro in his shiny new two-passenger plane.

John started taking flying lessons at the Willard airport in 1945 when he was 49 years of age. He has been flying at times every since.

When asked if he ever had any close calls or was ever frightened Grove answered no "I got along all right." "I fly for both pleasure and business and often put my plane to good use" the flying Auburn farmer stated. He added "It is safer in a plane than riding in an automobile."

He still has one ambition to fulfill and that is to take his wife for a ride. Although she has been a passenger in planes at different times she has not as yet accepted a ride with her husband as pilot.

Missionary Left Area 3 Years Ago For New Guinea

Finds Island Life Different

By EVELYN SHEER
N - J State Correspondent

LEXINGTON — Three years ago this month Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sherer and their children, David, now 8, and Angela, now 6, went to New Guinea. While there Sherer served as a construction missionary for the Lutheran church. Mrs. Sherer is the former Ruth Hirth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hirth of Lexington.

They landed at Sidney, Australia, where they were entertained by Lutheran church workers. Two difficulties encountered there were the pound system of money exchange and driving on the left side of streets and roads. It was necessary to look to the right before crossing streets.

In October they traveled to New Guinea by plane, landing at Port Moresby and then at Lai. One of their first overseas dining experiences occured at Lai. The main diet fare was taro, which is to the natives what potatoes are to us and rice to the Chinese. From Lai they went to their first place of residence at Finchhafen.

Sherer managed to keep ahead of his work schedule although most work on the island progressed much slower than planned. One of his first duties was the building of an extension bridge.

Business concerning electrical equipment took them on a pleasant journey to Aujura where they learned teen age boys walked 30 miles to catechism classes. The journey required two days.

A school for children of the missionaries was provided. One of David's hobbies was explaining railroading to native boys. These were greatly intrigued by his electrically controlled train.

When Ruth experimented with gardening she found it necessary to build frames around the garden and cover tender young plants with palm leaves to protect them from the burning sun. Seeds will grow anytime of the year and flowers are started from slips.

It was of much interest to learn there is a great similarity there and that of the United States. One of the most memorable beauty spots was lagoons filled with crystal clear water and colored by darting fish.

While residing at Finchhafen the Sherers welcomed a new member, Phillip Edward, who arrived in April, 1948. Sherer had the supervision of the hospital, built four water wheels and installed two hydro - electrical plants — one for the hospital and the other for Heldsbak seminary.

In August, 1948 the Sherer family gathered its belongings and moved to Medang, leaving two native servant girls weeping at the river's edge as they departed.

Beauty surrounded Medang with a continual flow of air traffic noted and heavy jeep and truck traffic filled the roads. While at Medang Mrs. Hirth sent her daughter a pattern book showing that longer hemlines were the vogue in the United States. Mrs. Sherer informed her mother they were not practical in hot climates.

Early in 1949 the Sherers were sent to Baitabak, a mission station a few miles from Medang. The land was practically jungle and bore many marks of the last war's devastation. Their home was built on cement piles, with a steel framework, fiber light walls and glass shutters. Here they lacked electricity for some time.

Sherer took charge of a technical school, teaching boys with the equivalent of our high school education, the fundamentals of machinery and carpentry. The native boys assisted in the construction of the school and dormitory buildings.

Since there was no mission school, Mrs. Sherer had to teach her children and her pre - marriage teaching experience came in handy.

Perhaps before many years pass the Sherers will return to their home near Crestline. For the present the betterment of mankind in far way New Guinea is foremost in their hearts.

Crestline Sets Pennsy Picnic There Aug. 18

CRESTLINE — Pennsylvania railroad employes from here to Lima will picnic Thursday, Aug. 18 in Kelly park here. T. D. Hoffman, engine house foreman here, is general chairman of the affair.

The program starts at 1 p. m. and closes at 10 p. m. Band music will be provided and films of the railroad's safety program will be shown.

All local department heads meet at 7 p. m. Monday in the office of Supervisor Edward Wollet to draft plans for the old style picnic. It is hoped to make the picnic an annual family affair for railroad employes in this area.

A good time for all ages is planned with baseball taking an important place on the program. Amusements will be provided to entertain children.

To Air Program

ASHLAND — The orchestra, composed of Mansfield and Ashland musicians and directed by Dr. L. E. Pete, will broadcast a program over FM Station WATG here at 8:25 p. m. tonight.

Pledge of Allegiance to Flag

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Church Membership Gaining

IF "BELONGING" to church means anything, a majority of Americans are on that side of the fence, according to the 1949 edition of the Yearbook of American Churches, with increase in church membership running slightly ahead of increase in population, according to Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, general secretary of the Federal Council of Churches.

In noting the increase in church membership, however, Dr. Cavert comments that "any thoughtful observer would detect a disturbing discrepancy between the size of the churches and their influence on American life."

It is lack of church attendance and individual religious activity that seems to account largely for weakness of influence, it being pointed out that only on Easter Sunday do more than 30 per cent of those on church rolls actually attend services.

Of the 76,000,000 Americans listed as members of some church or religious organization, in round numbers there are 45,000,000 Protestants, 25,000,000 Roman Catholics, 5,000,000 Jews and 1,000,000 Eastern Orthodox. Actually, however, the total is split among more than 250 separate and independent religious groups—evidencing the religious liberty enjoyed under the United States Constitution.

According to Dr. Cavert, 90 per cent of all church members are found on the rolls of the 50 largest denominations and eight denominational families embrace 80 per cent of all Protestants.

Some observers see evidence of more concerted action on the part of various religious groups in matters having to do with domestic problems and world relations, and there is also belief in some quarters that the influence of basic religious principles is increasing and will continue to increase in the years ahead.

When Officials Ignore Laws

FREQUENCY with which police connivance with underworld characters is brought to light in connection with investigation of gambling and vice conditions in various cities—with Cleveland and Los Angeles now prominently in the limelight—tends to confirm belief that bribery, in some form, enters in practically all cases in which enforcement officials ignore open violations of law . . . such as the wide open gambling that was permitted to return to Mansfield after a brief shut-down early last year, by order of Police Chief Schwab, sanctioned by Mayor Vaughn.

While a number of other Ohio cities have been showing keen interest in disclosing and abating the commercialized gambling nuisance, the "understanding" between Mansfield officials and promoters of various gambling rackets in this city is apparently so clear-cut that even the talk of moving the protected horse race bookie into new and more elaborate quarters is being calmly accepted in police circles.

It should be understood, however, that individual members of the Mansfield police department have nothing to say in such matters. They know, of course, of the existence of illegal gambling places in the city, but their attitude toward these particular violations of law is governed by administration policy, so a "hands off" order means just that.

Preparedness To Prevent War

THE TORONTO TELEGRAM comments editorially on Bernard Baruch's urging of a plan for total mobilization:

"His call at a time when there is a lull in the cold war may make him appear an alarmist to the unthinking. He is neither an alarmist nor a war-monger. It is because he hates war that he urges preparation to prevent it. It is because the apparent slackening in international tension may induce a false sense of security that he gives his warning. There is no security at present. At any moment the effects of a 'recession' might tempt aggression. It is for such a contingency that the democratic nations have to be prepared. Mr. Baruch's words deserve consideration not only in his own country but in Canada."

Churchill, in his book "The Gathering Storm," indicates many points at which the second world war might have been prevented if the Allies of the first had shown themselves militarily and morally strong.

Hitler would never have dared to menace the world, Churchill thinks, had they stood firm, and firmly together, as they should have done, and not allowed him to break the agreements made at the close of the first war. He got away with it because the nations that should have been strong, and shown their strength, weakly let him get away with it.

General disarmament is a sound and constructive theory if it is really general But general disarmament of factions within a village around whose outskirts a tiger is skulking, waiting for an open gate, a weak spot in the stockade, is not sound.

Cubans Protest Accepting Loan

UNCLE SAM has such a reputation as a banker for all the world that when a nation—and a small one at that—refuses a loan THAT'S NEWS

Reports that the Cuban government will obtain a loan of $100,000,000 from the United States, says a special dispatch to the New York Times have brought a wave of protest from Cuban sources other than governmental.

Former presidents Grau San Martin and Fulgencio Batista are opposed. Eduardo Chibas, head of the Cuban People's party, says the loan is not only unnecessary but would be actually dangerous to the Cuban economy. Millions of dollars of private capital are lying idle in Cuban banks.

So it begins to look as if needed public works might be financed privately That really would be cheering news. What man has done, man can do, and if one nation can get along without an outside loan, others, given time and good circumstances, can later do the same.

It seems that some of the wisdom of the ages just has to be forgotten once in a while, to be learned over again. There is this from Genesis, for instance: "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread."

One observer comments: "What a nice world this would be if everyone lived up to his obituary notices."

Looks Like Tough Goin' Ahead.

A Voice From the Country

Will Republican Party Display Wisdom?

By LOUIS BROMFIELD

THERE is a struggle going on within the Republican party which has great significance with regard to the nation as a whole and with the elections of 1950 and 1952 in particular. It is a struggle for the domination of the party between the big financial forces of the Eastern seaboard and the rest of the country, in particular the great Mississippi Basin. In essence, it is a struggle which has already been decided in the elections of 1948 when the Eastern forces carried New York state, Pennsylvania and New Jersey and suffered a disastrous turn of the election all along the line The big money forces of the East are the worst blight on the Republican party so far as the average voter is concerned Their presence and domination in party ranks lends verity, however feeble to the demagogic cry of Wall Street influence.

BROMFIELD

Moreover, the Eastern group reflects in reality the forces of privilege and all too often are concerned with their own point of view rather than that of the nation or the people.

Many are seeking to dominate the party largely through the remnants of the Dewey political organization The sooner the Republicans unload the element and that label, the sooner the Republican party will regain its old position of popularity with the people and its ability to serve the nation, not only directly through the unquestioned ability of many of its leaders but at least as a strong and valuable opposition party

The struggle within the Republican organization is only a symptom of a much greater change which has been taking place economically, financially and even culturally within the nation—the rise of the incredibly rich heart of the nation and its freedom from Eastern and to some extent European and British influence

Has Great Opportunity.

THE Republican party has a great opportunity in 1950 and 1952. For the first time in more than sixteen years it has been a real and great issue under which it can wage an offensive campaign, carrying the war into the heart of the enemy's country

It is the issue of economy, efficiency in government, in service to the people, in lower taxes and in a return to American principles of government. This is a real issue, make no mistake, which can be and is understood by every man in the street.

Against it, the Democratic party has no defense, for about its neck hangs the millstone of a long record of extravagance, mis-management, government inefficiency and waste and deficit financing.

All these factors are leading inevitably toward economic disintegration and the eventual destruction, first of all, of the great middle class, represented by the small business man and farmer, the millions engaged in services of one kind or another to the public, the white collar worker and the highly paid skilled working man.

The Republican party has a great opportunity and a great issue. The opportunity will be nullified if its organizations is dominated by the old forces, belonging to a day long past, which have brought defeat year after year.

Not only is the dominance of the Eastern financial interests very nearly a thing of the past but is a dangerous and unpopular label to be attached justly or otherwise, to any political party in this day and age.

The Republicans should clean house and elect as chairman, not a political hack and stooge, but an able well-known American figure out of the Middle West whom the people know, respect and trust. This is not only truth. It is also good politics.

Views of 'The Town Crier'

Grandfather's Thoughts

EDITOR'S NOTE: A Mansfield man who was sometimes quoted by the late Calvin A. Byers under the pseudonym, "The Town Crier," submits the following, which would undoubtedly have appealed to Mr. Byers as worthy of inclusion in his column.

By THE TOWN CRIER

WE CALLED him "Geodie," the nickname for his first name, George. He and his lovely, quiet-speaking mother visited us in June.

This sturdy, brown-eyed, tanned-skin three-year-old boy was a delight to my wife and me every moment they were with us. Full of energy and fun, happy and bright, we all loved and adored him.

His Grandad took him on many fascinating trips about town—to the park lake where white graceful swans swam and preened; for a boat ride which he described as "swimming in a boat." Then there was roller skating and the swimming pool, swings and slides; the four small cannons on the hill—and he must climb to the top of each of them.

His little inquiring mind had him often asking "Why?" and "What is dis is?" (his own original phrasing). To all questions I tried to give an intelligent answer but sometimes failed.

Beautiful, shady Central park was a frequent stop, there to see the goldfish in the fountain; the cannons at the park corners, and the "stone soldier" and "iron soldier." Then there was a trip to the union station to see big and little Diesels at work and to watch train signals change

City buses were a treat to him, as was a ride on the Greyhound. He got to know some of the drivers of the buses, and greeted them with a cheery "Hello Bob" or "Goodbye Harvey."

In the evening, after a hot but busy and happy day it was back to home, into his "jammies," and sleepily to his little bed.

His Daddy, our youngest son, couldn't get away from work at this time of year. We missed him very much.

On the East coast the government employs his technical skill, and that of many more civilians, to develop and perfect drop bombs and guided missiles—these for the eventual purpose, perhaps, of destroying cities and the people in them, too.

In our self-appointed task of "ramming our own God and government, and way of life" down reluctant throats of people abroad, we must, of course, BE STRONG. How else can our nation prosper and grow if we don't bring others up to our lofty thinking and high standards of living?

Bombs and missiles to kill people who, as babies, someone loved and cherished as we do this little boy visitor of a few weeks ago IT JUST DOESN'T MAKE SENSE!

It Says Here:

—By KEN WOODMAN

IF BY ANY CHANCE you have not been out to Liberty park this summer, it would be well worth your while to go and take a look around the well-kept grounds with their play equipment for children, tennis courts, ball diamond and attractive lake.

These, plus the fine pavilion and swimming pool are a living testament to the initiative, hard work, and independence of the people living in the northeastern section of the city. Through their organization, the Liberty Park association, they provided these outstanding facilities for their families. And they have generously permitted the rest of the city to enjoy them.

Residents of a number of other sections of the city have done well in equipping parks but Liberty is a striking example of what people can do for themselves when they decide to rely on themselves.

As Cerf Tells It

Goodman Ace's wife Jane, who is not very smart (for radio purposes, that is,) insists that it's only a question of time until one of those give-away quiz programs calls her up and tells her she has won the giant jackpot. "If you actually win," asked her long-suffering husband, "what's the first thing you're going to do with the money?" "Count it," said Jane.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

The sunflower is a native of tropical America, where it sometimes attains a height of 20 feet.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Wednesday, July 31, 1929

Union bus terminal on North Diamond street was opened.

Mansfield grocers and butchers held annual picnic at North Lake park, with crowd estimated a 700

Work on Park avenue west subway had reached point of requiring detouring of traffic.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Knarr left on motor trip through the east.

Dr. John S. Hattery and Dr. W. E Wygant moved offices to Farmers Bank building.

Dr. and Mrs. R V. Myers left on motor trip to California.

City council passed resolution to improve Harter avenue between Lexington and Chilton avenues.

'Brotherly Love' Wanes In Philadelphia

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — In two widely separated American cities attempts are being staged at encouraging people - to - people friendship—the only sure way to prevent war. In Philadelphia is located the oldest International House in the country, established to house and encourage foreign students in the United States. In Jacksonville, Alabama, is located the youngest International House in the country, established for the same purpose and objective Jacksonville is a small town—about 10,000 It has no great local industries, no wealthy taxpaying population, but a population which, living inland, doesn't worry too much about enemy attacks

Yet it raised the money to build its own international house for foreign students.

PEARSON

Philadelphia, third largest city in the U. S. A., is called "The City of Brotherly Love."

Philadelphia lived up to its traditions by founding the first International House in the entire country.

But now, slow, sleepy Philadelphia feels less brotherly. Its International House has already cut its budget, begun to fire personnel, while down in Alabama, the Jacksonville foreign students project is going strong.

Gore Celebrates.

CONGRESSMAN Albert Gore of Tennessee celebrated his victory over the Brannan farm plan at a drinking party in his office. One of the most jubilant guests was Tom Hitch, president of the Tennessee Farm Bureau, who promised to support Gore for the Senate if he would help defeat the Brannan plan.

Note — What wasn't mentioned at the celebration party was that Gore's action will cost Tennessee $71,331,824 in lost farm subsidies.

Antarctic Controversy.

THE HAVANA conference on colonial territories in the Western Hemisphere, which the United States decided to ignore, has taken some bold decisions that may give the state department a sizable headache in the end.

The meeting, attended by 14 Latin-American Republics, was for the purpose of forcing Britain, France and Holland to give up their colonial holdings in the western hemisphere.

That should have limited the discussion to the British, Dutch and French Guianas, plus British Honduras. However, the Argentines got busy and persuaded the conferees also to consider their 120-year-old quarrel with Britain over the Falkland Islands.

A separate commission for the study of "dependent territories" was set up, under the chairmanship of Dr. Ernesto Dihigo, dean of the University of Havana law school and one of Latin America's outstanding delegates to the San Francisco United Nations conference.

This distinguished authority on international law and his colleagues decided that Argentina's claim to the bleak islands, 500 miles from Buenos Aires in the South Atlantic, is completely valid. For good measure, the commission also agreed that the Argentines should have sovereignty over the South Georgia islands and several other Antarctic areas disputed by Britain.

The significant point is that this decision, unanimously adopted by the delegates in plenary session, may be binding on the U. S. under the rules of the Pan American system. Although only 13 nations were present in Havana for the final voting — the fourteenth — Mexico, which had withdrawn after a clash of opinions over the British Honduras question — will probably adhere to the finding in the Argentine-British matter.

In this case, there is no doubt that the United States will be called upon formally to recognize and accept a stand ratified by two-thirds of the membership of the organization of American states, as provided in that body's statutes.

This will mean that the state department's ill-advised effort to duck all responsibility in the question, by taking no part in the Havana deliberations, backfired badly. For it will be difficult to welsh on our commitments.

Swaps Corn For Rye.

THE SENATE watchdog committee is investigating a deal whereby the Army plans to acquire 300,000 tons of Polish rye from behind the Iron Curtain.

The deal includes the British, who have been trading with Poland and have thereby acquired 300,000 tons of Polish rye as part of their trade agreement.

The British people don't eat much rye, but the German people thrive on it. And, since rye is cheaper than wheat, the U. S. Army is satisfied to feed the Germans as much rye as they will eat.

U. S. millers, realizing this, bought up several million bushels of Canadian rye, but the agriculture department, which buys for the Army, won't take the Canadian rye off their hands for fear of discouraging U. S. rye production. This leaves American millers holding the rye bags.

Meanwhile, however, the U. S. Army still needs more rye for Germany and now is bartering U. S. corn to the British for Polish rye. Though the deal is being made with Britain, the effect is to take rye off the hands of Polish millers while American millers are still holding the bag. In other words, we are bolstering the economy of an iron-curtain country at the sacrifice of our own.

Note — The Army made one other deal with Britain for Polish rye last winter. At that time, 50,000 tons of corn were traded for 50,000 tons of rye.

Assignment: America

Wants To Earn His Pay

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — It is so refreshing to meet a man, in or out of politics, who labors under the old-fashioned delusion he ought to earn the salary he is paid that I am momentarily entranced with Russell I. Richardson of Lebanon, Ind. This is the day on which Mr. Richardson should arrive in England. He had luncheon in New York yesterday and should have tackled his first breakfast kipper, a bit of fauna which the English stubbornly regard as an edible food, in London this morning. To the outward eye, Mr. Richardson will probably look just about like any other American tourist now swarming in England. But he wears his rue with a decided difference.

INEZ ROBB

Mr. Richardson is a country lawyer who has gone to England to try to earn the $2,400 he receives as compensation for the 61 days he spent in the Indiana State legislature last winter.

"Out in Indiana, that's a lot of pay for two months' work." Mr. Richardson explained. "So I have been trying to find a way to earn the salary in a manner that would benefit both the voters and myself."

What Mr. Richardson finally hit upon is an adult education program.

"I decided that if I could go to England and learn at first hand something about English men and women under a socialist political system, I would not only be educating myself but maybe I could help my constituents understand what is happening there."

Maybe his 23,000 constituents won't listen to him when he gets home, Mr. Richardson said, but he hopes they will.

"I live in an insulated, grass-roots area. We're corn-fed and self-sufficient and kind of proud of it.

"On the whole, we're so conservative out in Boone county where I come from that we'd make Winston Churchill look like an out-and-out radical," Mr. Richardson laughed. "I don't think we're isolationists, however. But we are insulated from the kind of coast-line thinking you find along the eastern seaboard.

"When we go out to plant another acre of corn, we don't look into the sky and see it filled with imaginary bombers as you east-coast people do. We read about all the turmoil in Europe and Asia, but out in Indiana it doesn't seem very real to us. We read the daily papers and then forget about international matters when we go out to milk the cow."

Mr. Richardson is a liberal Republican who was hot for another Hoosier for the presidency, the late Wendell Willkie. He is in England without any preconceived ideas about a socialist government in action.

Very Much Alike.

THIS HOOSIER hopes to talk with English men and women who are the counterpart of his own Boone county constituents He hopes to find out "how people subjected to a new political program react to it, whether they feel it leads to progress or decadence."

Mr. Richardson is a slim man of middle - age and medium-height, with thinning gray hair, eyeglasses, an active sense of humor and a big bump of curiosity about how other peoples and other nations live.

He is convinced that the soldiers of World War II have had a great leavening effect on the international political outlook since they came home and settled down in their old communities.

"You take a farmer out in Boone county, mending a broken single-tree with a piece of wire. While he's mending away, his boy is telling him they have the very same kind of plumbing in Paris that they have in the Claypool hotel in Indiana.

"That brings the international scene right into a realm where it seems real and near."

Mr. Richardson hopes to come home and help the people in Boone county understand a little more about the English scene.

Of course, he may not be re-elected to the state legislature in 1950. ("In Indiana," he explained, "an election always depends upon how mad the people are at the party in power.") But in the meantime, he aims to earn that $2,400 the state paid him to legislate for 61 days last winter.

It Isn't a 'New Trend'

By ELSIE ROBINSON

HE WONDERS what I think about this new trend toward religion in journalism and the movies and radio.

I don't think it's new, my friend.

Men have always had a trend toward religion. Thousands of years before Christ or any organized society the savage tribes expressed their hunger for help from some Unseen Power by sacrifices and pageants and bloody rituals.

It is a historical fact that there has never been a tribe or a nation in the world that did not have religious trends.

If you don't believe me, read "The Golden Bough," which tells of the ancient reaching out toward the invisible. I warn you, some of it will make you extremely ill but that is a small price to pay if it makes you wise.

It is true that religion has at last become an open subject for discussion by the journalist and the general public. But human beings have always turned to God in an emergency.

We are in the greatest emergency of our national life. We will sink or swim by what is decided this year. We may make fine convenants but unless we practice them we are doomed.

Never has this nation stood in such need of divine help but we cannot secure divine help by passing laws. It can only work if each individual dares to seek the tall adventure of prayer and faith.

Prayer and faith will save us as a nation just as prayer and faith will save us as individuals.

Laws, regulations and the use of force will not save us. Only a spiritual awakening, an awareness of our responsibility as children of God — brothers to all mankind — will defeat the peril which hangs over the world today.

Don't take my word for it. Pray and have faith and learn for yourself. The results will be as certain as the sincerity of your prayer, as glorious as the depth of your belief.

Timely Editorial

Hobbies Are Healthful.

A survey shows there are 19,000,000 bona fide hobbyists in the nation, which means that 19,000,000 Americans have found a way to rout boredom.

Topping the list of hobbies is stamp - collecting, with glassware-collecting second and woodworking third.

That more people are turning to creative work in their spare hours is proved by the fact that woodworking, which 10 years ago did not even make the list, now stands third. But year after year stamp-collecting leads in popularity.

This is easily understood, for stamp - collecting, which challenges the imagination, appeals to the young and old alike.—Detroit News.

Climbing High

—By ANNE CAMPBELL

"Did you see how high I climbed?" he called
From his leafy perch in the apple tree,
And I smiled at the little boy,
enthralled
At the mighty distance he was from me!

The years will go, and no more shall I Hear those words that so gaily
chimed,
But perhaps they will echo beyond the sky:
"Grandmother, see how high I climbed!"

Sheep Herds Drop, Lamb Prices Rise

Flocks Hit New Low This Year

CHICAGO — (AP) — It s a fairly good bet you won t eat any lamb chops today

Most of us won't The main reasons, besides our meat tastes, are that the price is up and the supply is down

The U S sheep population slid from a record high of 56 213 000 head in 1942 to a record low of 31 963 000 in 1949 — a sharp drop of 24,250,000

Experts don't expect any sizable increase in the next few years

If you don t like lamb you can say So what?" But there's another angle — wool Wool touches the life of just bout all of us The National Wool Growers association says U S production has plunged from 454 - 000 000 pounds of shorn and pulled wool in 1942 to an estimated 250,000,000 pounds this year

As sheep herds shrank, prices went up. In mid-July, 1942, spring lambs sold for $17 per hundred pounds on the Chicago market They sold for $26 in mid-July this year.

Nice lamb chops, now around $1 a pound, are close to the top of the meat price list in retail shops Leg of lamb is less expensive but it, too is pretty high on the list Lamb chops have come down about 7 per cent and leg of lamb about 4 per cent from last year's retail top But the average of all meat has declined about 13 per cent

Fortunately, the cattle and hog populations have been growing But lamb has fallen off to a point where it amounts to only about 3 5 per cent of total U S meat production

How much that means to you may depend on where you live The heavy lamb eating areas are the east and west coasts The National Livestock and Meat board polled hundreds of housewives in 34 cities across the country The findings 74 per cent said they liked lamb

Model Farms Plan Revealed

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A model demonstration farm in every agricultural county and a county agricultural building on each of the farms, is the objective of a surprise move started in Congress

The idea is to provide federal grants to help counties establish a center which would bring under one roof all federal, state and local agricultural agencies

The buildings would be set on model farms also established by the counties with federal aid, to demonstrate advances in farming developed at the various agricultural experiment stations

Economy Drive Under Way

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The U S Coast Guard may discontinue nine facilities on the Great Lakes for economy reasons, Commodore J A Hirshfield announced Saturday

Hirshfield, commander of the ninth district, made the announcement after a three-day meeting of a coast guard board of survey

He said the Lake Huron lightship two lighthouses and six lifeboat stations will be the subject of individual hearings by the board to determine whether they will be continued

Loses Spouse, Retains Mice

HAMILTON — (AP) — Harold Mahan had his guinea pigs and white mice back today after they had played a role in a court action filed by his wife

Mrs Sara Mahan sued for separate maintenance As part of the property settlement, she received half of their five pens of guinea pigs and 195 white mice

Mahan had insisted his wife take the animals and care for them Yesterday he appeared in court and declared she had failed to do so

A court order giving Mahan all of the guinea pigs and mice was issued by Judge Fred B Cramer Mahan raises them for medical use

Fines Cost Drivers $125

Nine persons were fined $125 and costs when they appeared in municipal court yesterday for various traffic violations.

Seven of the nine persons were arrested for speeding.

Fined $10 and costs each when they admitted speeding were: Francis K. Badertscher, 475 Diamond street; William J. Kepple, Mansfield, R. D. 4; John Snouffer, of 604 Wooster road, and Willard M. Bodenmiller, of Galion.

Forfeiting $25 bonds by not appearing in court on charges of speeding were Jack S. Lee and Richard S. Golen, both of Cleveland.

Lorinzer Woodruff, of 78 East Sixth street, was fined $10 and costs for driving with no driver's license, and Myron W. Morris, of Bellville, was fined $15 and costs for failing to stop at stop sign.

Hints Heat's Aid To Polio

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Long periods of hot weather "may" have something to do with polio, says Dr. Morris Fishbein.

The editor of the journal of the American Medical association was going over a research document on the subject yesterday when a reporter arrived to interview him.

He remarked:

"Sustained heat may have something to do with polio. It's moving up on us at a terrific rate."

DOUBLE RING CEREMONY READ FOR YOUNG COUPLE

Bucyrus Girl Wed To Marion Man July 27
In Holy Trinity Catholic Church In Bucyrus

BUCYRUS—Wedding vows were exchanged Wednesday morning in Holy Trinity Catholic church here by Miss Rosemary Kline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Kline, Bucyrus, and Richard Hord, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton L. Hord of RFD 4, Marion.

The double-ring ceremony was read by Rev. Father Leo Reinartz, pastor of the church The church choir sang the nuptial high mass.

Horoscope

For Monday, August 1

Monday's horoscope holds augury of a sudden and dramatic turn of events, radical and far-reaching in its final analysis. New environs, fresh contacts, ambitious plans and projects, an uprooting in which long-range and stable foundations may be in the offing, are forecast. An astute and studied reorganization of affairs should thrive and prove stimulating to novel and bold initiative. Under this, obstacles may definitely melt away Reactions on personal ties and interests may be abrupt, but all in all it may be desirable to "go it alone," since higher ups are lukewarm

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may count upon a constructive and productive year, with sudden developments inspiring bold initiative giving birth to practical although experimental tactics or techniques with creative ideas and plans of revolutionary force. Stability and study prompt a sound reorganization of affairs, in which also private interests are involved The ambitions are original and comprehensive. However it may be well to rely upon personal initiative as others may not prove responsive, although some domestic cooperation is available

Those whose birthday it is, are richly endowed with ingenuity, daring, exceptional skills and concepts. It should attain an outstanding career on its unique ideas and initiative.

MEETING POSTPONED

The August 1 meeting of the executive board of the Women's Guild of the First Presbyterian church has been postponed till Monday, August 29. All circles are canceling their August meetings, except Circle Two.

Mansfielder Wed To Shelby Girl

The First Methodist church in Shelby was the scene of the nuptials, July 22, of Miss Ruby Elaine French, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell French, of Shelby and James Leland Gray, son of Mrs. Leland Gray, 147 Ohio street.

Dr. James A. Scott solemnized the vows at 7:30 p. m. The custom of open church was observed for the double ring service. Mrs. Otto Shoup presided at the organ while Miss Nancy Riley served as soloist.

The couple spoke their vows before an altar decorated with two seven branch candelabra and two tall beauty baskets filled with white gladioli. Garden flowers decorated the church for the candlelight service.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, chose a white embroidered organdy gown fashioned with a long full skirt and a large bow. She wore shite lace mitts and a headpiece of orange blossoms which held her long circular veil.

Miss Janice Cooper, of Shelby, a friend of the bride, served as maid of honor. Her gown was floor length in powder puff blue. It was fashioned with a full skirt, large sash and bow. She wore mitts and headpiece of blue net and satin ribbon.

Miss Cooper carried a blue satin and lace heart-shaped pillow with pink tinted gladioli. Miss Arlene French, the bride's sister, was bridesmaid. Her ensemble was the same as that of the maid of honor, but in a soft yellow color.

Mrs. French chose for her daughter's wedding a white and brown dress. The bridegroom's mother was attired in black. Both women wore carnation corsages.

Donald Rettig, of Mansfield, a friend of the bridegroom, served as best man. Jack Oberlin and Gene Eyerly, both of Mansfield, escorted guests to their pews.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church dining room. The room was decorated with bouquets of garden flowers. The bridal table was set with a linen cloth, a low centerpiece of flowers, tall blue and yellow lighted tapers and a four tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom music box.

The couple is now at home to friends at 401½ West Fifth street.

The bride is a graduate of Shelby high school. She was employed at Bowsher's Bakery in Shelby. Mr. Gray is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and is an employe of Hoff Manufacturing company.

Out of town guests were present for the wedding from Los Angeles, Calif., Clearwater, Fla., Chicago, Ill., Marion, Akron, Wooster, Galion, Martel, Toledo, Mansfield, Tiro, Millersburg and Lorain.

40,000-Mile Master Highway System Planned for U. S.

All Major Centers Will Be Linked

Cost To Exceed $11 Billion

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The nation's road - builders have drafted a 40,000 - mile master highway system.

The network of broad, high - speed, trunk highways would link every important commercial and transportation center, 42 state capitals and 183 of the largest cities It would provide routes free of cross traffic for swift passage through metropolitan areas

The time - table calls for the system to be completed within 20 years. The estimated cost: $11,266,000,000. Congress has been asked to appropriate for the project at the rate of $500,000,000 a year compared with $75,000,000 a year now being spent for work on major highways.

Actually more than 37,000 miles of the system already have been outlined by the bureau of public roads (formerly the public roads administration) and by the 48 state highways commissions. The remaining miles are held in reserve for bypass routes that may be selected in the future for defense purposes.

Almost one - third of the system will have to be new construction—departing completely from existing routes. This is expected to cost $7,236,700,000 — $311,900 a mile for 9,867 miles of rural construction and $2,055,000 a mile for 2,024 miles in cities of 5,000 or more.

The rest of the system already is in use, but only about six per cent, or 1,988 miles of rural roadway and 300 miles of urban routes, is good enough that it won't have to be changed or improved

An estimated 8,687 miles will have to be widened, at a likely cost of $957,800,000. The average cost for 8,306 rural miles is figured at $87,800 mile for 381 urban miles at $599,800 a mile.

The rest — 14,283 miles — will need more than widening but does not have to be relocated to any considerable degree. This is expected to cost $3,022,700,000 — $157,200 a mile for 13,467 rural miles and $1,109,800 a mile for 816 urban miles

The total cost breaks down to $5,973,000,000 to bring the rural sections upto express - highway standards, $5,293,000,000 for urban sections.

Of the amount, $735,000,000 is expected to go into the purchase of rights - of - way on rural sections, at an average cost of $23,200 a mile, and $1,667,000,000 on urban sections, at $517,600 a mile.

COST RUNS HIGH

Road construction is expected to cost $5,869,300,000 — $126,100 mile in rural areas and $583,600 a mile in the urban section.

The building of 4,893 new bridges and improving or rebuilding of 5,925 bridges now in use are estimated at $2,888,900,000

And $82,400,000 must be set aside for enlarging 15 of the 21 tunnels now in use and $23,800,000 for building five new highway tunnels.

Of the 13 rural tunnels on the system, seven are in Pennsylvania, four in Oregon, one in Idaho, and one in California.

Six of the "least adequate" of the 13 are to be avoided by relocation of approach roads. The other seven are to be supplemented by parallel bores. Each of the resulting twin bores will carry oneway traffic

Of the five new tunnels proposed, only one is in a rural area — on California's U. S route 40 at the approach to the Carquinex strait bridge.

The others are a 900 - foot tunnel in Lousiville, Ky., a 700-foot expressway tunnel in Boston, a 2,400-foot freeway tunnel in Kansas City, Mo, and a new Palisades tunnel in New Jersey

16 DIE IN CRASH—Sixteen persons died in the wreckage shown above near Ft Dix, N J. after a navy Hellcat fighter plane buzzed an Eastern Airlines DC-3, sending it swirling into the ground. Charred bodies of the passengers were identified from the passenger list The aerial view above shows the scene of the crash as first persons appeared on the scene. The fighter pilot was found dead beside his plane's wreckage, parachute unopened, a few miles away.

Urban tunnels proposed by state highway departments fro enlargement are California's Yerba Buena tunnel, between the spans of the San Francisco - Oakland bay bridge; the Sumner tunnel under Boston harbor, a depressed highway on Route 25 in Jersey City, N J; the Beaucatcher tunnel at Asheville, N C; the McCallhee tunnel at Chattanooga, Tenn; the St George, Utah, tunnel, and Seattle's west approach to the Lake Washington floating bridge.

The eighth existing urban tunnel is the Bankhead tunnel at Mobile, Ala The bureau of public roads says that although the Alabama highway department proposed no improvement there the tunnel is "definitely inadequate" and should be supplemented with a parallel tube, probably costing around $5,500,000.

Of the total cost of tunnels, $46,600,000 is for tunnels in rural areas and $59,600,000 in urban area.

Texas would account for about one fourteenth of the mileage of the entire system California would account for more than one tenth the total cost.

Design standards call for concrete or asphalt paving, four - lane divided highways where peak traffic volume exceed 800 vehicles an hour, traffic lanes 12 feet wide in heavily - traveled areas and a 250-foot right - of - way in rural areas.

An absolute maximum grade of six per cent is prescribed. There are now 668 grades on the system exceeding that limit. The steepest grades on the system are U. S. route 70 at Marion, N. C, almost 11 per cent for 0 15 mile, and U S 40 at Old Washington, Ohio 10 per cent for a third of a mile.

Camera Makes One Eyelash Flick Into Half-Hour Movie

NEW YORK — (AP) — The modern Columbus is the man behind the high speed motion, picture camera.

He is discovering a new world that travels too fast for the unaided human eye to catch. And he is slowing it down so that a bird in flight hangs almost motionless in air and the bat of an eyelash would take half an hour to complete.

Things happen too fast on mile-a-minute assembly lines for factory workers to see. When a machine goes wrong, human eyes often cannot detect the cause.

The man with the high speed camera steps in He takes movies at super-speeds of up to 8 000 pictures per second and beyond He screens the movies at normal speeds which slow down by 500 times the movement he shot with his camera What the eye could not see before, it now can study in earnest.

USED BY INDUSTRY

Speed movies are growing in industry. Efficiency experts use them to get a close-up, clear-eyed view of hundreds of operations ranging from the working of a die-casting machine to the way girls on an assembly bench put the caps on vinegar bottles.

Officials of the Bell and Howell company, which makes different types of cameras for industries, say movies have increased efficiency and cut costs in scores of ways. For years, even in the biggest meat packing plants, workers linked sausages by the same hand operations their grandfathers used Cameramen then took close-ups of finger motions. The movies proved that the sausage workers, simply out of habit, were performing many unnecessary movements. When they were retrained, their work time was reduced 38 per cent.

Engineers of the Bell Telephone laboratories, where the widely-used Fastax speed camera was developed, tell of a typewriter problem which stumped the experts The typewriter worked too noisily, but ordinary attempts to learn why failed High speed films showed that after a typewriter key was struck it bounced at the bottom of its downward movement, then rose and bounced again at the top Engineers eliminated the bounce —and the noise

Airplane manufacturers, working in supersonic speeds have found these cameras indespensspeeds make it harder and harder for pilots to bail out safely If they try to jump from planes traveling at 400 miles per hour, their bodies may hit the slipstream and could be torn into pieces. Speed movies uncovered the otherwise invisible flaws of special pilot - ejection devices until workable, safe models were developed.

SAVED LIVES

Bell engineers say speed films helped save thousands of lives in wartime In one case, a particular kind of machinegun jammed at critical moments. Movies, slowed down on the screen, proved that the ammunition belt by its erratic weaving caused the jamming.

Through use of X-rays, movies have shown what goes on in closed areas.

Child Aid Fund Honors Famed Poet

Indiana Will Pay Tribute To Riley

INDIANAPOLIS — (AP) — Indiana is trying to bring about the heaven of James Whitcomb Riley's little crippled boy, where nobody has "curv'ture of the spine."

The Hoosier poet's admirers plan to observe his 100th birthday, Oct. 7, by piling up $1,000,000 for research in children's diseases. State taxes are paying another $400,000 for the laboratory building.

The work will be carried out at James Whitcomb Riley Memorial hospital, built 25 years ago by public subscription. More than 76,000 sick and injured children have been treated there — mostly without expense to their families.

Since the beginning, the James Whitcomb Riley Memorial association has raised more than $3,000,000 for the hospital. The institution itself is part of the Indiana university school of medicine and has trained more than 2,000 doctors and 7,000 nurses.

Riley's friends who set up the association believed it was a perfect memorial to the author of "The Old Swimmin' Hole" and other poems of childhood.

Unpaid officers of the association expect little trouble raising the million dollars — partly because the cause is worthy and partly because Riley, dead 33 years, is Indiana's most popular citizen.

Riley once was carving a roast duck making heavy going of it.

"Have you ever noticed" he asked his guests, "how seldom the gravy matches the wallpaper?"

That timely remark is still quoted at Indiana dining tables. So are hundreds of other anecdotes about the Hoosier poet.

"Hoosier poet" brand of canned goods and cigars sell briskly in Indiana stores. His collected poems are a staple product of the Bobbs-Merrill publishing house here.

It's curious that the movies haven't tackled Riley's life story. It was an uncommon one — even for a poet.

Riley read law in his father's office at Greenfield, hated it, and became a sign painter. He pasted signs on the sides of barns as advance man for a wagon show and started verse writing with lyrics for the tent singers.

He was the grandfather of radio's singing commercials, rhyming advertisements for the Greenfield News. He did a stint on Indianapolis newspapers and then attracted national attention with his Edgar Allen Poe hoax.

Riley was working on the Anderson Democrat at the time he wrote "Leonainie," purported to be a lost poem by Poe. The Kokomo Dispatch published the verse and it fooled the big city critics. Riley stepped forward as the real author and his boss fired him.

A friendly letter from Henry Wadsworth Longfellow gave Riley a needed prod when he was about to abandon poetry. He repaid the gesture later by helping a couple of young unknowns named Booth Tarkington and Meredith Nicholson.

Once Riley started selling his poetry, he never had to worry about starving in an attic. He made money from royalties and more from platform appearances with Humorist Bill Nye. They drew huge crowds from coast to coast.

There's a legend around Indianapolis that Riley loved children but they worried the old bachelor half to death when present in the flesh. Maybe they did get on his nerves — he was a neat, precise man — but his collected correspondence bulges with little notes to boys and girls he had met.

Biographers never have been very successful in establishing any lost love as the reason for Riley's staying single. The truth seems to be that he simply enjoyed life as a bachelor.

Maybe that's why Hollywood has passed up his story.

SUNDAY DRIVERS—The Esterlines take their 19th century carriage out for a Sunday drive. On the perch in front are F. A. Esterline, 602 Springmill street, and Mrs. Roe Esterline, 94 Flint street. Roe Esterline holds the door open to show the interior of the luxurious carriage. To prove there's nothing new since this vehicle was built, the top is convertible.

Mansfielders Rescue Old Horse-Drawn Vehicles

Restore Carriages To Former Splendor

Long before the flying machine and the automobile, folks rode in style if not in speed. The shiny black brass - trimmed carriage owned by Mr. and Mrs. Roe Esterline, 94 Flint street, testifies to the grandeur of the carriage age.

The Esterlines make a hobby of rescuing these old vehicles, repair and polish them and exhibit them at centennials and fairs. Last year it was a "surry with a fringe on top." This year they are showing their posting chariot and hackney carriage.

It dates back to the early 19th century and Mrs. Esterline says there are still some in use in England and France for festivals and ceremonial purposes.

In America they were used for carrying executives and presidents around in the time of John Quincy Adams.

The Esterline carriage weighs 1,800 pounds, has solid hickory wheels, and two large solid copper and silver lights. The lights used either coal oil or candles.

Seven persons can be carried in the vehicle, which has brass and copper hub caps and door handles.

The carriage has a "swan" neck which permits it to be turned in very narrow places. There are four large springs combined with wood and leather to make for easier riding.

The booth at the front of the coach is of high perch design and carries two persons.

The saddle horses have a specially made harness which also is trimmed in brass. The Esterline's initials are on the blinders.

This particular carriage was purchased last winter and the Esterlines worked on it for four months until they had it ready for exhibition.

The Esterlines carry it from place to place in a large truck. The horses are pulled in a trailer.

4-H Members Plan Camp Session

Members of the Pavonia Homemaker 4-H club, meeting at the home of Iva and Roberta Markel Thursday, discussed plans for going to Camp Otyokwah for a week-end vacation Aug. 26.

Demonstrations were given on refrigeration, how to keep a sewing box neat, how to paste, how to sew on a button and how to launder, iron and fold clothes. Taking part were Carol Ball, Phyllis Grimwood, Evelyn Boggs, and Elizabeth Reiter.

Games were played and refreshments served at the close of the business session. The next meeting will be held at the roadside park on US Route 42, Aug. 2 at 1:30 p. m. A picnic supper will be served and members will finish their books.

SMOKE SCARE

Firemen from Central and No. 2 stations answered a call to 19 East Fourth street at 3:55 a. m. yesterday. Firemen said paper, burning in a stove had caused smoke, alarming the tenants, but there was no fire.

Plan Free World Labor Movement

LONDON — (AP) — Delegates representing 50,000,000 trade unionists will meet in London on Nov. 28 to form the anti-communist Free World Labor Federation, an organizing committee announced yesterday.

The new federation will be an international body of union workers who broke away from the World Federation of Trade Unions because it was dominated by communists.

Big District Softball Meet Opens Tuesday

10th Inning Rally Wins for Tribe

TIME OUT!!—Blonde Mary Jones takes time out to fix her hair during a softball session at Liberty park. It seems the gals like to look their best even while playing on a dusty diamond. Mary, a shortstop, is one of the leading hitters on the Westinghouse team which is entered in the district tournament which opens tomorrow. She started the season in a dual role—playing for Westinghouse and managing North Lake in the same league. However, Mary turned the North Lake job over to her mother because of schedule conflicts. (News-Journal staff photo.)

2 Champions Lead Thirty '49 Entries

The district softball tournament will open at 7:15 p. m. Tuesday at Gorman-Rupp field according to pairings made yesterday in the office of tournament manager Stan Kamen.

Thirty teams will fight for the two championships, 25 competing for the men's title and five for the girls. Berths in the state tournament will be the chief prize for both winners.

Last year's champions in both divisions will be on hand to defend their titles. Smitty's Maids of Marion won the girls title last year while Mansfield Gorman-Rupp walked off with the men's. Gorman-Rupp went on to the finals of the state tournament where it lost out in extra innings.

Gorman-Rupp drew a first round bye in this year's tournament and will meet the winner of AVC-Bucyrus Swan Rubber game Saturday night. The Pumpers will be favored to capture upper bracket honors while the Ashland Indians are the likely lower bracket favorites. Marion Smitty's All-Stars and Mansfield Farm Tools and Sons of Herman may have something to say about the latter team.

Three games will be played the first night and each succeeding night until the quarter-finals begin Aug. 10. Two games will be played Aug. 10, 11, and 13 with the district champ scheduled to be crowned Monday night Aug. 15. The girls' finals will be held Friday.

13 FROM MANSFIELD

Thirteen Mansfield nines will compete, 11 for the men's crown and two for the girls'. All will meet out-of-town opposition in the first round.

Mansfield American Veterans Committee will have the honor of opening the tournament Tuesday when it plays Swan Rubber of Bucyrus. Second game of the night will be a girls' tilt between Galion All-Steel and Mansfield Ohio Sport Center. Mansfield Tire and Jeromesville Merchants will meet in the third tilt at 9:45.

Mansfield teams were requested to pick up player passes at the recreation department.

MONDAY, Aug. 2—7:15: AVC vs Swan Rubber, Bucyrus. 8:30: (Girls) Galion All-Steel vs. Ohio Sport Center; 9:45: Mansfield Tire and Jeromesville.

TUESDAY, Aug. 9—7:15: Office Cafe vs. Shelby Owls; 8:30: (Girls) Mt. Vernon Cochran-Dalrymple vs. winner of Galion-Sport Center game. 9:15. (Girls) Smitty's Maid's, Marion vs. Brucato's Stars, Mansfield.

WEDNESDAY, Aug. 4—7:15: Sons of Herman vs. Perrysville Pottery, 8:30. Isaly Dairy vs. Mt. Gilead Sid's Cleaners; 9:45: Electric vs. Bucyrus Ohio Locomotive Trains.

FRIDAY, Aug. 5—7:15: Todd's Jewelry vs Mt. Vernon Cochrane Motor Sales. 8:30. Girls finals; 9:45: Ashland Police vs. Veterans of Foreign Wars.

SATURDAY, Aug. 6—7:15, Westinghouse vs. Mazza's Cafe, Mt. Vernon. 8:30. Gorman-Rupp vs. AVC-Swan Rubber winner. 9:45: Ashland Gerber Printing vs. Mansfield Tire-Jeromesville Merchants winner.

MONDAY, Aug. 8—7:15: Office Cafe-Shelby Owls winner vs Todd's Jewelry-Cochrane Motors winner. 8:30: Sinclair's Carry-out, Galion vs Police-VFW winner; 9:45: Bud's Sports, Upper Sandusky vs. Sons of Herman-Perrysville winner.

TUESDAY, Aug. 9—7:15: Smitty's All-Stars vs. Isaly-Sid Cleaners winner; 8:30: Farm Tools vs. Ideal Electric-Ohio Locomotive winner; 9:45: Ashland Indians vs. Westinghouse-Mazza's Cafe winner.

Indian Chief Gets Boot for Protesting

BOSTON —(AP)— Cleveland's world champions Indians crept within three and a half games of the American league leading New York Yankees yesterday by rallying for four runs in the tenth inning and a 10-6 decision over the Boston Red Sox.

Indian Chief Lou Boudreau was ejected from the game in the eighth inning after a long argument with Umpire Bill Summers who ruled Cleveland Outfielder Dale Mitchell had thrown his glove at a ball hit by Sox Third Baseman Johnny Pesky.

Summers' ruling gave Pesky a triple, instead of the double which he ordinarily would have made with the hit. The clout drove in three runs for the Sox.

Those three tallies, added to another fashioned in that eighth, pulled the Sox into a 6-6 tie.

Reserve Infielder Johnny Berardino followed his manager to the dressing room for chirping too loudly over the decision from his seat on the bench.

The Indians, who had been blanked by Sox ace left hander Mel Parnell in the ninth, went to town for their four scores in the top of the extra inning when Ray Boone, subbing at short for Boudreau, poled a two-run homer into the screen in left.

Mickey Vernon, who drove in three runs with a ground rule double and a short home run, began the tenth by legging an outfield hit into a two bagger. He slid into second ahead of Dom DiMaggio's throw, which Vern Stephens was unable to handle.

The next batter went out and Jim Hegan was walked purposely. Allie Clark, pinch hitting for relief hurler Satchel Paige, who was credited with his fourth victory, doubled to right for a run.

The hit was a high loft which Al Zarilla tried hard for but couldn't reach. A high infield bounder allowed Hegan to score and Boone then stroked his homer.

DRIVE OUT STARTER

The Indians were leading 6-2 until the eighth after driving out starter Jack Kramer with a three run attack in the seventh.

Bob Doerr doubled as Boston's first batter in the eighth. Billy Goodman singled and Al Zarilla drew a base on balls to fill the bases. Paige here replaced the starting Early Wynn and got Birdie Tebbetts on a swinging third strike.

Pinch hitter Matt Batts dumped a Texas league into center for one run and Dom DiMaggio, who earlier had singled off Ken Keltner to run his consecutive game hitting streak to 26 popped out.

Summers ruled Mitchell had thrown his glove, sent Pesky to third and Zarilla home with the fourth run of the inning.

The Indians, led by the furious Boudreau, charged Summers, hotly denying the glove had been thrown.

Boudreau said he would protest the decision—despite the fact an umpire's judgment can't be overruled—but forgot the idea after his team won.

It was the first ejection for Boudreau in his managerial career.

Vernon, whom Boudreau had considered benching for the Boston series, drove in the Tribe's first three runs and made four hits in as many times at bat.

In the second, he doubled to score Doby and Keltner, both of whom had walked.

GETS 13TH HOMER

In the sixth, he clouted his 13th homer of the year. The blow struck the right field foul pole, 305 feet from the plate. It was the first homer for a Tribe left handed hitter this year in Boston.

The Indians picked up three more in the seventh to knock out Kramer.

Hot Stovers Set Junior State Meet

A field of 16 teams will compete for championship in two age brackets in the first annual Ohio Hot Stove league junior baseball tournament in Wooster Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

At least two, and possibly four, Mansfield teams will be in the tournament. Mansfield will definitely have one team in each the 13-14 and 15-16 age divisions. However, Bob Jameson, Wooster, said last night that two other Mansfield teams will probably get bids for the tourney.

Jameson, tournament chairman, said two 13-14 teams or one from each age bracket would be invited if today's entry deadline does not produce additional teams.

Entered in the 15-16 tournament are teams from Mansfield, Wooster, Alliance, Lorain, East Liverpool and Sebring. The 13-14 entrants are Mansfield, Alliance, Wooster and Lorain. Both brackets will be filled to eight teams by additions from Alliance, Mansfield and Wooster.

Drawings will be announced early this week, Ohio Sport Center in the 13-14 bracket and Police Recreation club in the 15-16 group are probable Mansfield entrants.

The tournament will be conducted on four Wooster diamonds. Games will be at 1 and 4 p. m. on Friday and Saturday. Finals will be played in both groups at 2:30 p. m. Sunday on a pair of fields at the Wooster fairgrounds.

Yanks Thow 'Sad' Party For Stengel on Birthday

By RALPH RODEN

NEW YORK —(AP)— Casey Stengel's 59th birthday was anything but happy yesterday as his New York Yankees took a 9-2 trouncing from the Chicago White Sox.

The Sox not only ripped Casey's ace, Vic Raschi, to shreds but they also cut the Yanks' American league lead over the Cleveland Indians to three and a half games. The Indians outslugged the Boston Red Sox, 10-6 in ten innings at Boston.

Dom DiMaggio of the Sox collected one hit in six trips to extend his consecutive batting streak to 26 games.

Chicago White Sox Manager Jack Onslow, an old foe of Stengel's, shook up his line up and the revamped batting order came through. Don Wheeler belted in five runs on a triple, double and single. Floyd Baker delivered three on a single, two walks and a fly out. Charley Kress pounded out three hits and scored four runs.

Bill Wight, a former Yank, started and received credit for his tenth victory. Wight is the first Chicago pitcher to win ten games since 1947. Ed Klieman, also an ex-Yankee, relieved Wight in the sixth and blanked the Yanks over the last four heats.

Virgil Trucks pitched the Detroit Tigers to a five-hit 11-0 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics. Neil Berry with four hits, and Don Kolloway and Aaron Robinson with three each, paced the Tigers' 19 hit bombardment of a trio of Athletic pitchers. Pat Mullin's triple during a six-run ninth inning drive, was the Tigers' lone extra base hit of the game. The triumph was Trucks' 13th of the season.

CLIPS WASHINGTON

The St. Louis Browns exploded for four runs in the eighth inning and went on to clip the Washington Senators, 11-9. Roy Sievers drove home three runs on a trio of safeties and Paul Lehner four on two blows to spark the Brownie drive. Joe Ostrowski, second of four St. Louis pitchers, was the winner and starter Paul Calvert the loser.

Glamour Boy Gus Winner Over O'Hara

By CHARLEY STINE

Georgeous George may have been wrestling's prima donna glamour boy for a long time, but record time of four minutes, and the 300-pound black bear who made his Mansfield debut last night.

Gus won his match with George O'Hara in the near-record time of four minutes, and did it with all the pomp and circumstance of wrestling's biggest ham.

First of all, Gus refused to get dressed for the occasion, but was finally persuaded to bathe, don his best mittens and appear. The bath, taken in a huge washtub, is a necessary part of each match for Gus. Owner-trainer Billy Fox cannot get Gus to put on his mittens without a bath, and the promoters can't get anyone to wrestle Gus without his mittens.

Once in the ring, Gus played the part of all true villains as he started in wrestling right off without any waiting for a handshake or other silly formalities. In fact, he took a few choice swats at O'Hara while the latter was climbing through the ropes.

From there on it was one grand procession — O'Hara in front (or at least trying to be), the bear close behind swatting at him and Trainer Fox being in the rear on Gus' chain. Gus tired of the wild swing after a while, applied a "bear hug," cracked one of O'Hara's ribs and ended the match.

Then, like the three little kittens. Gus lost his mittens. Trained to cease wrestling as soon as the mitts come off, Gus turned to Fox and began to play. He apparently enjoyed basking in his victory so much that he did not want to leave the ring. A bottle of orange pop fed by Mrs. Fox finally convinced him to parade back down the aisle. Back to another bath.

SUNI IS WINNER

Gus wouldn't like it but his match was not booked as the feature of the evening. That was between Suni War Cloud, the husky Indian and Cleveland's Fred Bozic. The Indian won by taking the third fall on a disqualification after losing the first and capturing the second. Bozic had to have a police escort from the ring after a bit of hair-pulling and eye-gouging.

Fox (Gus sr.) won the opening match in a refreshingly clean bout with Joe Wolfe of Columbus. Fox took the first fall in 14 minutes and the second in five while Wolfe captured the third in 12. Probably for the first time in a Mansfield ring, a handshake between the two followed the bout.

Named Ball Coach

CINCINNATI — (AP) — The University of Cincinnati yesterday named Hank Zuerick as its head baseball coach. Zuerick, former professional baseball player, is sports publicity director at U. C. He will continue to handle that job along with his baseball duties.

Rousing Drive Gives Ponder Classic Win

By CHARLES DUNKLEY

CHICAGO — (AP) — From last place came the pounding hoofs of Calumet Farm's Ponder yesterday to gallop to a rousing victory in the $87,750 Arlington classic ending Arlington park's highly successful 36-day meeting.

Seemingly hopelessly last at the half-mile post, sixteen lengths behind, the plodding Ponder charged on to take the lead at the stretch turn in the mile and a quarter race. He flashed under the wire three lengths ahead of Admiral Lea, owned by Mrs. Ada L. Rice, Chicago. It was the same margin by which Ponder defeaated Capot in the Kentucky Derby.

In third place, two lengths back of Admiral Lea, came Isidor Bieber's Palestinian, which finished in the same spot in the Derby. Saint Nicholas, Brown Hotel stable entry, was fourth, six lengths behind Palestinian. Green Tree stable's Capot was fifth, John's Joy, owned by J. A. Kinard jr., was sixth and last.

Ponder's victory was cheeringly acclaimed by 32,047 spectators, largest crowd of the Chicago season. The colt went to the post 6-5 favorite.

The victory was worth $65,450 to Warren Wright, owner of Ponder, and was the horse's third stakes triumph of the year. His first was the Kentucky Derby. Later he accounted for the Peter Pan handicap. However, Ponder was beaten by Capot in both the Preakness and the Belmont stakes.

Ponder's victory pulled him up on even terms with Capot in their battle with Palestinian for the 3-year-old championship. It is planned to have the trio come together again in the classic's companion piece, the American Derby, highlight of the Washington park meeting, opening Monday.

Ponder raised his earnings for the year to $195,375 with his classic victory and it was his sixth first in 15 starts. The amount bet on the race, $229,243, was the biggest single race handle of the Chicago season.

Penn Baseball Club In Final Home Contest

The 1948 state champion Penn-Auto-Sporting Goods baseball team will complete its Sunday home season today at Blue Goose park when it plays host to Lorain National Tube.

The contest is slated to start at the usual time of 2:30 p. m. with either Jack Hammett or Don Hardy doing the pitching for the Autos.

SWANK WINS TRIO

Penn has won 11 of 17 ball games this year including the last three straight. Shelly Swank has pitched all of the trio but will be unavailable for mound duty today after having worked seven innings of a 6 - 1 victory over T. and E. Tavern Friday.

The Autos will play all their Sunday games on the road after today. Poor attendance at Blue Goose has been given as the reason for making the Autos a road team. Mansfield area fans have failed to support the team which proved itself the best of the Ohio semi-pro teams last year.

Penn Golfers In Tight Race

The fifth set of second half matches will be played in the News-Journal A league Tuesday with league-leading Penn Auto-Sporting Goods attempting to hold off the challenge of at least four other clubs.

Penn has 98 points to 92 ½ for second place Ideal Billiards and 86 for third place Myers Supply. Farther down the line, however, are two teams which are moving up fast and may make a real challenge.

Komito's Clothes scored the top total of 28 points last week to jump from seventh place to fifth with an 84½ total. PD's Bar came all the way from ninth to sixth in the same session.

Dick Chapman Wins Canadian 'Am' Golf

SAINT JOHN, N. B., — (AP) — Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N. C., won the Canadian Amateur Golf tournament yesterday in his first try but he had to stage a spectacular rally on the closing holes.

He beat Phil Farley of Toronto, 1 up in 38 holes, after being as much as five down during the afternoon round.

Four Richland County Games Slated Today

The first round schedule will be completed and a full set of second round games played in Richland County baseball league activity today.

The one first half game left involves Butler and T. and E. Tavern and will be played as the first part of a double - header at Butler at 1:30 p. m. The clubs will play their second round game at 3:30.

In other games, the Mansfield Hawks invade Ontario and Shelby opens second half play by being host to Lexington.

Perhaps the most important game of the day will be the first round game at Butler. The host team can throw the first half race into a four - way tie victory. Lucas, Lexington, and the Hawks have already ended first round competition with 4-2 records and a win will give Butler the same mark.

Mansfield Recreation director Stan Kamen, who is head of the league, said yesterday that a playoff will be held later in the season to decide the first half champ. First and second half winners will meet at the end of the season for the league title.

T. and E. batting average announced yesterday show Leftfielder Jerry Novacic leading the way with a .404 mark. Ernie Tinkey has a 5-1 pitching record while Mike Watchorn has won three and lost four and Al Boyer two and four.

Australians Cop Davis Cup Match

WILMINGTON, Del., — (AP) — Australia won the North American Davis cup competition yesterday when Frank Sedgman and John Bromwich defeated Mexico's Vega brothers, Armando and Rolando, 6-0, 6-4, 6-2, in the doubles.

The victory gave the Aussies the necessary three out of five victories. They face Italy in the interzone final, at Rye, N. Y., next month.

N-J Tennis Tourney Entrant List Opens

Entry list for the annual News-Journal city tennis tournament opens today.

There is no fee for the big net tourney and trophies will be awarded to the winners in each of six classes. Entry blank will be found on the second sport page and should be mailed to the News-Journal sports department as soon as possible. Deadline for entering the 1949 competition has been set as Aug. 10.

Opening play in the N-J meet has been scheduled for Aug. 13 with the finals listed for either Aug. 21 or Aug. 28, depending on the number of entries.

All tournament matches will be played this year on the three clay courts at the Woodland club. And for the first time all matches will be scheduled. Time schedule will be announced in the Aug. 12 edition of the News-Journal.

Contestants will be required to wear tennis shoes on the Woodland courts. As in the past, players will furnish their own tennis balls for all matches.

Watty Slabaugh is serving as tournament director again this year. He will be assisted by Tom Bloor and Fred Tharp.

Bob Keefe, young southpaw netter, stroked his way to his second straight singles championship last year. He defeated Dr. Andy Zoll in the finals, 6-0, 6-2. Keefe also teamed with Jo Ann Beelman to take the mixed doubles crown.

Lowell Bourns and Sam Campbell won the doubles championship while Elinor Hattman was the women's singles champ. Jim Shelly copped the boys' singles title while Carol Johns was the girls' singles winner.

Mansfield Four Wins Moose Golf

ALLIANCE — A quartet of Mansfield golfers yesterday won the team championship in the fifth annual Ohio Moose association golf tournament over the Alliance country club course.

The Mansfield foursome fired a 295 score over a rain-soaked course which sent many scores soaring skyward. Jim Musille with a 73; Ted Etzel, 72; Ray Malaska, 77 and Al Hager, 73 gave Mansfield the title. Alliance was second with 297 and Youngstown third with 300. Elyria was the defending team champion.

Dr. Frank Bellino, Youngstown, won the individual championship with a 71-69—140 over the par 71 course. Bellino had reached the round of 16 in the Ohio Amateur tournament at Mansfield's Westbrook country club two weeks ago.

TIE FOR SECOND

Two Mansfield golfers—Hager and Joe Mayer — tied for second with 145's. Hager put together a 73 and 72 while Mayer had a 76 and 69. Mayer, two-time champion in the event, had a 34 and 35 in concocting the two-under 69.

Fritz Vogel and Chuck Addlesberger tied for third in the handicap division with net 68's. Vogel had a 91 and Addlesberger 83.

Other top Mansfield scores were: Etzel, 72-76—148; Malaska, 77-72—149; Nick Komjenovich, 78-77—155; Frank Jocha, 83-73—156 and Ed Blonston, 79-77—156.

Twenty-eight Mansfielders competed.

Wins Sail Trophy

DETROIT—(AP)—The Crescent Sail Yacht club of Grosse Pointe, Mich., won the Inter-Lake Yachting association Wakefield trophy yesterday.

Snead Takes Tourney Top

ST. PAUL, Minn. — (AP) — Sam Snead caught and passed the leaders in the third round of the Western Open golf tournament yesterday, firing a seven-under-par 65 for a 54-hole total of 201.

That figure put the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro one stroke ahead of Chick Harbert of Detroit, who wound up with a 68, and a 202 total for 54 holes.

Lloyd Mangrum, who had been tied with Harbert for the lead at the start of Saturday's play, had some tough luck on the 16th hole when his drive went into a trap, and turned in a 69 for 203 and third place.

St. Louis Cards Wins 9th In Row To Take Big Lead

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals extended their first-place margin over Brooklyn to two and one-half games last night by defeating the Dodgers 7-6 in a spine-tingling thriller, with Catcher Joe Garagiola doubling in Glenn Nelson with the winning run in the eighth.

Enos Slaughter drove in Stan Musial with the tying run in the same inning. Musial had drawn a base on balls.

The contest was witnessed by a sell-out crowd of 31,614, who were on their feet most of the time as the high-flying Cardinals won their ninth straight game, not counting two tie contests with Brooklyn this week.

The clubs will close their crucial series with an afternoon game today.

A four-run uprising in the seventh sparked by Jackie Robinson's two-run single to right put the Dodgers ahead, 6-5. Pitchers Max Lanier and Ted Wilks were blasted out in the big inning.

Ohio Pigskin League Schedule Announced

A 21-game schedule for the newly formed Ohio Football league was announced today by league officials.

The schedule will open Sept. 11 and close Oct. 23. The early closing date was set so that the seven league teams could book outside opponents late in the season. Each team also will draw one bye during the seven-week league season.

Most of the teams have already opened practices or will start within the next two weeks. Coach Jimmy Lymper's Mansfield Rangers have their first drill scheduled for tomorrow at 6:45 p. m. at Tappan field.

Some 30 candidates have signed for tryouts with the Rangers. Lymper, Line Coach Ed Stacco and Center Coach Danny Markowitz will handle the Mansfield drills. The first week will be devoted exclusively to conditioning exercises.

Completing the league roster are: Massillon Chevrolets, Marion Angels, Toledo Local 12 All-Stars, Akron Bulldogs, Sandusky Maroons and Bucyrus Green Hornets. Marion will be a travelling team and play all of its games on the road.

Mansfield has three home games and three road contests on its league slate. The Rangers play Marion, Sept. 18: Sandusky, Oct. 16 and Massillon, Oct. 23 in the home games. All games in Mansfield will be played at Stadium field.

On the road, the Rangers open with Toledo, Sept. 11 and play Akron Sept. 25 and Bucyrus, Oct. 9. The Mansfield bye is scheduled Oct. 2.

Just Some Stuff From The Stuffer On Sport Affairs

By Fred Tharp
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

THERE IS SOME discussion making the baseball round these days regarding the leading pitcher in the majors. . . . The fellow's name is either Allie Reynolds or Reynolds Page. . . . The first named is the big Creek Indian who tosses 'em up for the New York Yankees while the second is an ambidextrous tosser from the same team. . . . Now Reynolds Page is a dual personality who has a 19 win-5 lost record for the season. . . . He usually hurls the first six innings with his right arm and the last three with his left. . . . Reynolds Page is actually the combination of Allie Reynolds and Joe Page—the best partnership of pitching since the days of Lefty Gomez and Johnny Murphy. . . . The combination is good because Reynolds can start and not finish while Page can finish and can't start. . . . Reynolds has won 11 games this season with Page saving eight of the decisions and Fireman Joe has won two and lost three after Reynolds has pulled his vanishing American act. . . . Allie has started 17 games this year and in 13 Page is the guy who has been around at the finish. . . . Reynolds has changed the script three times by finishing games. . . . He "forgot" and went the route May 10 in beating Detroit, 6 to 1; knocked off Philadelphia, 6-2, on July 7 with a five hitter and blanked St. Louis, 5-0, July 14 with three hits. . . . One of the other games was too far gone for Page to exert his mastery and Duane Fillette came on to lose the 17th. . . . Reynolds has won 11 and lost one while Page's record stands at eight wins and four losses. . . . In addition to helping Reynolds, Page has saved 13 victories for other Yank pitchers. . . . Joe has been in 32 of the 93 Yankee games. . . . Around the circuit they say that Reynolds may win 20 games if Page doesn't come up with a sore left arm.

FOR YOUR SPORTS SCRAPBOOK:

There was a snake in the grass which caused the Salem (N.H.) Athletic club to lose a baseball league title.

It seems Shortstop Bruce Magoon missed an easy grounder when he felt something in his glove. Bruce jerked off the mitt and out crawled a foot-long black snake. The error set up four runs as St. Michael's defeated Salem, 6 to 4.

The snake apparently had found haven in Magoon's glove between innings.

THERE'S AN INTERESTING parellel in the cases of Joe DiMaggio and Gene Woodling. . . . They're both now important cogs in the New York Yankee baseball organization. . . . Of course, DiMag has been the big sensation of the majors after missing 65 games. . . . Woodling, who got his pro baseball start with the Mansfield Braves, has gone almost unnoticed in the 1949 Bronx Bombers' success story. . . . DiMag was the bargain buy of all time. . . . In 1935, the Yanks gave $25,000 and five washed up players for Joltin' Joe. . . . The Yanks bought Woodling last year for $50,000 on the strength of a .385 average. . . . Both came from San Francisco and both came so cheaply because of trick knees. . . . Woodling's purchase was a conditional one. . . . If Gene's knee caused trouble he was returnable 30 days after the '49 season opened. . . . The Yanks didn't announce this clause but the former Mansfielder was very much aware of it. . . . It gave him an added mental strain into cracking into an outfield seemingly set with DiMag, Tom Henrich, Charley Keller and Johnny Lindell. . . . However, all suffered injuries and Woodling got his chance. . . . He's played more games than any other Yank outfielder and in his first 63 games, batted .306 on 59 hits in 193 trips to the plate. . . . He scored 43 runs. . . . Woodling's success is surprising because of failures with the Cleveland Indians and Pittsburgh Pirates. . . . He had led three minor leagues in hitting—including the Ohio State circuit while with Mansfield—but just couldn't hit the major loop tossing. . . . Going down to Frisco from the Bucs was actually a break for the 26-year-old star. . . . There he came under the tutelage of Lefty O'Doul, the one-time National league batting champ. . . . Lefty changed Gene's batting style to an unorthodox stance and his hitting picked up. . . . The knee hasn't bothered Gene so the Yanks may have another ace for the next few years.

CUFF STUFF: Mansfield's baseball diamond situation is so acute that games in the American league of the Hot Stove's junior program must be played at Ontario. . . . Jeff DeHaven, former Madison coach, pens a card from Knoxville, Tenn. where he is attending a coaching school. . . . Jeff will be starting his second season as Sandusky high grid chief. . . . Shirely May France, the shapely young blonde who plans to try crossing he English channel within the next two weeks, hopes to rival Esther Williams as a movie mermaid. . . . Incidentally Shirely is having diet problems in England. . . . She says she has to eat at least a pound of meat a day to keep up her weight but in England the ration is two thirds of a pound of meat per week for each person. . . . Bob Day and Russ Murphy, former Mansfield high school coaches, are looking over Paul Brown's Cleveland Browns training camp in Bowling Green.

Loop Leads At Stake In 2 Contests

An overflow schedule of 23 City league softball games are on tap this week despite the fact that the district tournament at Gorman-Rupp field will dominate play.

City Recreation Director Stan Kamen, who also is the district tourney manager, said that city games will be postponed if a team should draw the same day's play in the district meet. Including tournament and independent play, around 40 softball games will be played in the city this week.

TOP TWO GAMES

Games with the league lead at stake will be played in the Recreation league Monday and the National league Tuesday. The Old Timers with a 2-0 record will meet News-Journal (2-1) at Liberty park tomorrow evening. Tuesday, Westinghouse (4-0) is to meet 164th Fighter Squadron (2-0) for the National loop lead at Prospect park.

Kamen announced that no second round will be played in the Church or Girls' league because of lack of time. A single-elimination tournament will be substituted with the winner meeting the first half champion for the season title.

The Church league will start its tournament play Thursday, and the Girls will begin next week.

Americans Win Harmsworth Cup

DETROIT — (AP) — The United States retained the historic Harmsworth trophy yesterday when R. Stanley Dollar's Skip-A-Long took the second heat of the speedboat classic on the Detroit river.

The victory gave the United States team two races. Jack Schafer's Such Crust I having won the first heat Friday.

The lone Canadian challenger, Miss Canada IV, again was unable to get top speed out of her power plant and finished fourth.

Jewelers Battle Two Mansfield Opponents

The Todd's Jeweiry softball team will play two Mansfield opponents in a double-header at Prospect park starting at 2 p. m. today.

Todd's will play Isaly Dairy in the first game and Office Cafe in the second. Dale McKinley and Stub Winebrenner will pitch for the Jewelers who have won 31 and lost 12 this year.

Giants Edge Cincy Reds In Tenth, 8-7

CINCINNATI —(AP)— The New York Giants edged the Cincinnati Reds, 8-7, in ten innings yesterday with Whitey Lockman tripling home Hank Thompson from first base with the winning run.

Thompson singled off Ewell Blackwell, third Cincinnati pitcher, with two out in the extra frame and Lockman followed with his three bagger on a hit and run play.

The Giants clipped Howie Fox for two runs in the second inning but the Reds tied the count in the third at the expense of Monte Kennedy.

Fox yielded another run in the fourth on an error and two singles but the Reds disposed of Kennedy in the fifth with a four run rally on Fox' Peanuts Lowrey's double and one-baggers by Dixie Howell and Red Stallcup.

The Giants' bounced back and routed Fox in the sixth, scoring four runs on as many hits with Sid Gordon supplying the key blow, his 21st home run with two on. The Reds tied it up again in the eighth on a walk, single and fly ball. Sheldon Jones, third New York pitcher, gained credit for the victory, his eighth.

Lefty Dave Koslo relieved Jones in the last of the tenth with two out and the bases loaded, and got left handed hitting Ted Kluzewski to bounce into a force out on the first pitch to end the game.

PHILS WIN TWO

The Philadelphia Phillies snapped their fourth place National league tie with the New York Giants, beating the Chicago Cubs twice.

Russ Meyer checked his former Cub mates on five hits in posting his eighth triumph in the first game. One of the blows was Hank Sauer's 20th homer with a man on in the first inning.

The Phils broke a 3-3 tie in the seventh against Doyle Lade on singles by Dick Sisler, Bill Nicholson and Willie Jones. Nicholson had homered in the third to give the Phils a 3-2 lead.

Robin Roberts scattered eight hits in gaining his tenth triumph in the second game. The Phils sewed up the game in the fifth with a four run rally against Johnny Schmitz and added four more in the ninth against Emil Kush.

Ohio Legislators Get Chance to Study Tribesmen

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Ohio legislators will have an opportunity to struggle with another "problem" here Aug. 12.

Bill Veeck, president of the Cleveland Indians, has sent out letters to members of the Ohio legislature, asking them to be his guests that night. The Indians are scheduled to play the Chicago White Sox. For the special guests, there will be a lawn buffet dinner prior to the game.

Veeck wrote the members of the General Assembly that they dealt with "problems of the people all over the state," and declared one of those problems was "the effort of the Cleveland Indians to repeat as world baseball champions in 1949."

So, said Veeck, "we'd like you and your wife to make a first-hand study of this problem by being our guests."

Elect Directors

DALLAS, TEX.. — (AP) — The National Skeet Shooting association has announced election of two Ohioans to the board of directors. Mick Smythe of Cleveland was named to a two-year term and Curt Shelter of Canton to serve one year.

New Yorkers Cannot 'See' Title Match

PATERSON, N. J. —(AP)— Abe Greene, commissioner of the National Boxing association, yesterday criticized the New York State Athletic commission for refusing to recognize the coming bout between Ezzard Charles and Gus Lesnevich as the heavyweight champion.

The fight has been designated as being for the title by the NBA. Charles won the NBA version—the official ruling body in every state except New York—when he outpointed Jersey Joe Walcott in Chicago last month.

TALK OF TOURNEY

"Now there is talk of a heavyweight tournament," said Greene. "Tournament? With whom? Charles is the champion. Within two months of winning the title, he is taking on one of the top contenders. By the terms of our original understanding with Joe Louis, the new champion agreed to box Lesnevich or Lee Savold within three months and the survivor within three months after that time."

Greene said that it meant either Savold or Bruce Woodcock of England would be entitled to a shot at the champion "and either one can have a match with the winner of the Charles-Lesnevich fight by November."

Col. Ed Eagan, chairman of the New York State Athletic commission, yesterday declined a request by Louis, director of boxing of the International Boxing club which is promoting the bout in the Yankee stadium on Aug. 10, to recognize it as being for the heavyweight title.

Young California Gal Golfer Tops Teen-Age Field

An 18-hole qualifying test at the Onwentsia club in suburban Lake Forest Monday will trim the field to 16 for four days of championship match play. All entries are under 18 years of age.

Marlene, playing with the best in women's golf on the west coast, has an excellent record for a 15-year-old. This season she has won the Indio and Palm Springs women's tournaments, the Los Angeles city championship, and the California women's golf circuit title. She also was runner-up in the northern California open and medalist in the California state meet.

Wash Out Tourney

Legion Junior Ball Meet Opens Monday

COLUMBUS —(AP)— District champs tangle Monday in a week-long tournament to find the best American Legion junior baseball team in the state. Play will be on a two-defeats-and-out basis.

The Legion's 20th junior championship game will be Saturday at university, golf course. A feature of the state legion convention.

Lima, Marion, Lancaster and Zanesville entries were in the 1948 tournament. The Bartley-Johnson team of Cincinnati edged Mansfield McVey Post in the finals. Both were eliminated this year.

The Legion and Ford Motor Co. will present the champion with a trophy. The victor will be eligible to enter the regional junior tournament in Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 15.

Brewer Cops Junior Links Title, 6 and 4

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Gay Brewer, 17, of Lexington Ky., yesterday won the national junior amateur golf championship, defeating his 15-year-old links buddy, Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., 6 and 4.

Held square for six holes, the 113-pound Brewer won the next three holes to round the turn with a commanding lead. Rudolph's putting, which had been spectacular all week, fell off. He narrowly missed putts on the seventh, eighth and ninth holes and then failed to hit the cup with three putts on the eleventh.

HITS 40 FOOTER

Brewer, two-time Kentucky junior champion, drilled in a 40-foot putt to close out the match on the 14th hole, and win this second annual competition for youngsters under 18.

Brewer had beaten Jimmy Sykes, Kenkintown, Pa., 2 and 1 and Rudolph had whipped Tommy Morrow, Shreveport, La., one up in 19 holes in Saturday morning's semi-finals.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Just before the New York Yankees took the field to face the Chicago White Sox at the Yankee stadium yesterday, the record music broke into the tune of "Happy Birthday to You." Yankee Manager Casey Stengel was 59 year old.

Cage Coaches Seek Bigger Receipt Cut

CEDAR POINT — (AP) — The Ohio High School Basketball Coaches association wants cage teams to get a bigger cut of tournament gate receipts.

Members also urge redistricting the state into eight divisions with equal representation in a two-week-end state tourney.

These and other recommendations were offered the State High School Athletic Board of Control at its annual summer meeting here. The recommendations will be acted on at the next board meeting in Columbus, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1.

Other association suggestions included:

The association to underwrite a basketball clinic featuring an all-star class A and B game early in June;

Let boys playing in both reserves and varsity play in five quarters, four in the reserve and one in the varsity.

Pittsburgh Adds Two Footballers

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers added two more signed players to the roster yesterday. They were Steve Suhey, former Penn State guard, and Ben Barber, a rookie halfback from John Carroll university.

Suhey, a 215-pounder from Cazenovia, N. Y., is putting in his sophomore year with the Steelers. Barber hails from Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.

Tie Game Replay Set In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Friday night's tie game between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the St. Louis Cardinals will be replayed here the afternoon on Sept. 21, the Redbirds' office announced yesterday.

Since a night game already is on the books for that date, it will be an afternoon-night doubleheader, with the first game scheduled to start at 1:30 p. m.

FEMININE LUCK—The News-Journal cameraman was 'Johnny-on-the-spot' last Thursday afternoon when Henrietta Pulvermiller, 519 Wayne street, pulled in a crappie at Charles Mill dam. The photographer had just asked her how the fish were biting and had been informed they weren't biting at all. Zip—out came the crappie. Zip-zip—out came the camera. Lending moral support was Adelle Leonard (in the straw hat) of El Campo, Texas. She is currently visiting the Pulvermillers and admits local fishing "Isn't quite like fishing in the gulf."

Rough Fish Gain Too Rapidly, Net Shows

Lanky Bill Atterholt, one of Ohio's expert fish management men, looked at the horde of silvery fish flopping around in the seine and shook his head.

"Too many shad," he protested. "I wish we could poison some of these shallow and muddy bays to get rid of a bunch of these rough fish. That's what's the matter with Charles Mill right now, too many rough fish. The natural balance has been destroyed."

The lanky outdoorsman reflected for a moment, then added, "But just try to convince the fishing public of that. They'll go out and sit on the bank all day without catching anything, then claim there aren't any fish. And you can see their point because they aren't in touch with the real facts.'

Bill and his assistant, Lester Young, were making shoreline tests at Charles Mill, a routine which they follow all over this district. Test net after test net came up with shad outnumbering all other fish. Scattered in the different tests were channel cats, black and brown bullheads, bluegills, sunfish, silverside minnows, blunt-nose minnows, carp and an occasional bass.

All the fish were small, seldom exceeding two inches in length.

"We don't get any large fish along the shore," Atterholt explained. "What we catch are young fry, usually this last spring's hatch. These give us a pretty good idea of how the lake's balance is holding up. Right now it appears to me that Charles Mill is going back into its five-year cycle. Back in 1943 all anyone could catch here were little tiny bullheads. Each year they became more scarce, and then this year they seem to be more plentiful."

In discussing the idea of poisoning certain portions of the water to eliminate undesirable fish, Atterholt took a definite stand on the good which would be performed by such an action.

"We have local poisons," he said, "which can be confined to one small area. A boat would row across an inlet, sprinkling poison in a straight line. This would keep other fish from coming into the bay but would keep those already in it from coming out. Then the workers would go ahead and finish the job by sprinkling poison around the bay. This would kill all the fish in the shallow water.

"At the same time," he continued, "the poison wouldn't hurt any other section of the lake because it would be so diluted by the time it left the bay that it would be harmless."

He said there is a difference between Pleasant Hill and Charles Mill in that Pleasant Hill seems to retain a normal balance and shad and carp are well under control. It is possible that the deeper waters of Pleasant Hill aid in keeping this balance.

More shad hatch at Pleasant Hill than at Chrles Mill, but either the water conditions or natural enemy balance keeps their numbers cut to a minimum.

One possible answer as advanced by Atterholt was that 1,500,000 walleye fry were stocked at Pleasant Hill a year ago. Another 1,500 larger ones were planted there in 1938 and these stockings may have resulted in the lowered number of shad.

He also suggested that one ideal means of curbing the rough fish in local waters would be for volunteers from fish and game associations to seine the shoreline, destroying all shad and carp caught in the seines. About 50 men could do a world of good, he said.

Kenny Wassem, concessionaire at Charles Mill, has advanced the theory that since the water is shallow, great northerns could probably do for Charles Mill what walleyes appear to have done for Pleasant Hill.

An ideal solution to the problem appears to be a combination of all three measures, seining, poisoning and stocking.

SHORE SEINING—By taking samples along the shores of lakes, state fish management officials gain valuable information concerning the various conditions affecting waters from an aquatic life standpoint. Bill Atterholt, district foreman for the fish management division, state of Ohio, and his assistant, Lester Young, Hayesville (wearing boots), run a 400 square foot test at Charles Mill dam. Below is shown the result of the test dip with shad predominating over all other species of fish for recent hatches.

Fish Spurns Hook, Jumps Into Boat

Fishing is getting to be an easier sport all the time, according to the Flxible News, Loudonville.

The News carried a story this week of a bass which leaped into the boat of Fred Kemp, Bob Jones, Dean Beans, and Ted Smith at Warsaw creek.

The men had run a trot line across the creek, and were returning to the bank for some casual fishing. The 19-incher leaped into the boat, nipped Jones on the thumb and was subdued by the anglers.

NAMED ON COMMISSION

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche has appointed Baldwin Rice of Greenfield to a six-year term on the state conservation commission. The commission will be known as the natural resources commission after Aug. 11.

HELD IN MOTOR THEFT

Russell Dale Butterbaugh, 26, of Perrysville, was returned to Richland county yesterday after he was arrested by the Ashland county sheriff on a municipal court warrant charging grand larceny.

Butterbaugh is accused in the theft of an outboard motor, valued at $115, which was taken from a garage in Bellville where it was stored by the owner, Elmer S. Hardin, Bellville. Hardin signed the affidavit.

Contract Let For Lake In Knox County

Excavating Will Be Started Soon

Construction of a 505-acre headwater lake in Knox county will be started within a few weeks, the state conservation division has announced.

A $50,578 contract has been awarded by the division, subject to approval by the attorney general, to the Parkersburg Excavating company of Parkersburg, W. Va.

The company will construct a dam, spillway and earthen embankments on the east branch of the Kokosing river, a mile and a half north of Fredericktown.

This project, which will require six to eight months for completion, will result in the formation of one of the largest headwater lakes in Ohio. The lake will be slightly more than half as large as Pleasant Hill lake.

The new lake, unlike Pleasant Hill and Charles Mill, will have no connection with food control, so the water level will remain constant. It is entirely for recreational use, with chief emphasis on fishing.

The state will retain a 300-foot strip of land around the entire lake which will be open for use of the public. After completion of the dam, the water will be stocked with fish.

Random Shots . . .

With

Don Miller

The torrid weather this past week didn't bother too many area residents but there were a few who long for the storms and snows of early winter. They're not after relief from the heat. No, sir. They are duck hunting enthusiasts and they can hardly wait for the chance to crouch in a blind, shiver a bit, and down any wandering mallards or canvas backs.

Well, for the benefit of these hardy souls I'll pass along the following information: favorable weather in the north has meant ideal nesting conditions and the duck population is well on the way towards providing a record season this fall.

Early pintail broods were taking wing the first part of July, and there are indications that most broods are larger than they have been for several years.

Duckological, official publication of Ducks Unlimited, claims the second breeding season (ending August 15) will decide the actual prospects for the 1949 season, but indicates that present conditions point toward a good hatch.

This duck hunting is something I've always been a little skeptical of, mainly because I can't hit the darned things. I can freeze in a blind as well as the next man; my hands feel like pieces of ice (standard duck hunting procedure); and I enjoy a nip from the coffee (or various other jugs; but I can't hit a duck if he sits on the end of the gun barrel.

Oh, I've downed a couple in the past but it was purely good fortune. My calls sounded more like a love-sick moose than a duck, so the rascals probably came around to see what in the name of tarnation was creating such a fuss.

Now you've had your prediction of a good season, hunters, so here's a word of warning. Stay away from "Scatter Load" Miller's blind. He's gonna peal a teal this fall!

There are a good many chuckles over outdoors happenings, but few can top the one pulled off by a photographer up in Connecticut. He had been sent along with Jason Clark (editor of Angler's Almanac) to get photos of a trout fishing trip.

Everyone was catching fish and when the party felt enough time had elapsed to enable the photographer to have a full quota of shots, they quit casting.

"Five," came the answer, "and all good ones."

The party had visions of some beautiful pictures until the photographer held up five trout. His camera was still strapped around his chest and had never been touched!

That doctor up in Wisconsin who amazed friends last year by soaking his worms in benzedrine so they would wiggle harder is at it again.

Now he's changed his tactics slightly and is using the drug on soft-shell crabs.

"When the crab hit the water — Zingo!" he exclaimed. It dived down, grabbed a bass by the nose with its claws and- - -"

The old Doc never got to finish his statement, but he did have a total of 56 bass caught on the crabs so there must be something to it.

That worm idea certainly paid off for him last year. He continually racked up good catches of bass with his stimulated crawlers while other fishermen went fishless and strikeless.

So much for distance stuff. Now it develops that fishing is getting better on the home front, undoubtedly because I haven't been able to devote much time to it lately. Joe Menke has been pulling in his share of gills and crappies at Charles Mill and reports they've been hitting nicely on flies.

Channel cats seem to be doing better than usual this year, smashing away at live minnows. Just at dusk they hit their peak of activity and promise plenty of action for anglers. Just for record, there are plenty of them in Charles Mill and Pleasant Hill.

Lake Onaping at Benny, Ontario, must be quite a spot according to three Mansfield fishermen. The three, James Miley, Bud Rose and Dale Baumberger, report fishing is good and that they have 42 miles of lake water to fish in. They add that the area is also ideal for hunting.

Since the picture on the card they sent happened to be of a log cabin at Northwood's Sportsman camp, we take it for granted that's where they are staying. Sure looks like a nice setup- - and they are making an 18-day stay of it!

Mr. and Mrs. Willis R. Huffman, 148 Boughton avenue, are enjoying a stay at Salmond's resort, Cloyne Ontario, but are making it pay dividends other than peace and quiet.

Mrs. Huffman started the fireworks by dragging in a five-pound bass for the daily prize, then her husband latched onto a six-pound walleye for the next day's prize. Looks like a family affair with the Huffmans!

Fish Contest Opens Soon

A fishing contest for youngsters with nationally-known fishing tackle as prizes was announced yesterday by Kenny Wassem, Charles Mill dam concessionaire.

The contest, limited to youngsters between the ages of four and 16, will run from Aug. 1 through Aug. 31.

A Langley reel will be awarded for the largest bass caught during this period, he said, with the angler nailing the largest crappie being rewarded with a True Temper rod.

Second, third and possibly fourth prizes are to be awarded in each division.

Wassem said there is no restriction on tackle, but each contestant must register at the boathouse before he can be eligible to participate.

As a special feature of the contest, Wassem announced prizes of jointed southern bream (bluegill) poles for the largest crappie and bass caught on Aug. 27 by any entrant. The 27th has been named as national better fishing rodeo day for youngsters by Better Fishing, Inc., an organization which backs youth participation in angling.

"There is no local rodeo," Wassem said, "so this will give the kids a chance to get something worthwhile. Maybe next year we can organize a full-scale day with national cooperation."

Fish caught during the contest will be judged on length rather than weight, he added.

Score of 93 Wins Match

Marty Pahls, former tournament caster from Mansfield, swung back into practice this week, topping casting club opponents Tuesday evening with a neat 93 at Liberty park.

Pahls won a new fishing line for his score. Close behind were Ed Miller, 90, and G. E. Conant, 89.

In the junior division, Tom Eberhardt won a softball for posting an 87 while Jimmy Cook took an artificial bait and runner-up honors with a 73.

Three club members reporting out-of-town fishing trips for the weekend are Verne Jones to Lake Erie, Dan Stehle, in Indiana, and G. E. Heineberber in Canada.

Approximately one-fifth of the money spent in the United States for business, repair and personal services is spent in New York State.

Rogers, Hammerstein Deny Magic Formula

NEW YORK — (AP) — When the musical play "Oklahoma!" burst on a surprised and delighted public in 1943, Film Producer Samuel Goldwyn stopped Composer Richard Rodgers during an intermission.

"Dick," Goldwyn asked, "with a success like this behind you, what will you and Hammerstein do next?"

Rodgers, still in the happy daze that comes over a man with a smash hit on his hands, shrugged and said he didn't know.

"Well, there's only one way you can hold onto your reputations," said the movie man. "Shoot yourselves."

But Goldwyn was wrong. Dick Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein are the composer-librettist team of "South Pacific," which stacks up as one of the greatest hits Broadway ever had. The advance sales alone were almost a half million dollars and ticket sales now are so far in advance that many prospective customers believe Mary Martin may be singing "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outo My Hair" while leaning on a cane.

In between those two successes, Rodgers and Hammerstein wrote "Carousel" and "Allegro." Neither was a nine-day wonder, but Rodgers says he'd be satisfied if nothing less successful ever was tagged with his name

One of the outstandingly successful teams in show business, it's a sort of happy second marriage for both. Rodgers for years was the musical half of Rodgers and Hart. The late Lorenz Hart collaborated with him on "Connecticut Yankee," "Present Arms," and "By Jupiter," to name only a few.

Hammerstein, grandson of impressario Oscar Hammerstein, has "Show Boat," "Rose Marie" and the "Desert 'song" — again naming only a few — with other collaborators, notably the late Jerome Kern.

Both of the men who have blazed new trails in musical plays deny there is a magic formular for success. They are painstaking and hard practitioners of their skills. Hammerstein likes to work on an adaptation of a book. "Oklahoma!" was based on "Green Grow the Lilacs." "Carousel" was based on "Liliom" and had a hero who committed suicide.

Now comes "South Pacific," based on a series of short war stories and highlighted by a romance between a man in his midfifties and a much younger woman.

"We work together carefully, plotting out the show, the titles and what the characters are going to do," Hammerstein explained. "There really is no answer to that old question about whether the music or the lyrics come first."

After the intense period when they work together planning the show, they separate. Hammerstein goes to his Doylestown, Pa., farm to work. Rodgers works either in his New York home or his place in Fairfield, Conn.

"Most of the time," says Hammerstein, "I write the dialogue and continue on writing the lyrics in sequence — just as though they were a rhyming part of the dialogue."

Hammerstein believes that song lyrics, like dialogue carry along the plot.

There's a difference, the team maintains, between writing songs for "integrated musicals" — their name for the type of shows they do — and sitting down with the idea of writing a hit tune.

"First," says Rodgers, "we ask ourselves, 'does this song belong in the framework? If the answer is yes and it's consistent with th echaracter singing it, it goes into the show."

"Of course," added Hammerstein, "that doesn't mean we don't like to have hit tunes."

Ohioan Wins Music Award

An Ohio girl, Jean Geis of Springfield, was one of three winners in the Young Artist 1949 Auditions conducted by the National Federation of Music clubs.

The auditions were held in conjunction with the recent biennial convention in Dallas, Texas. Fifty-six young artists, winners in the district contests, competed there for the four $1,000 awards.

Miss Geis was piano finalist in the contest. She is now a fellowship student at Julliard School of Music, New York City. Recently she appeared as soloist with the NBC Symphony orchestra, a part of the award.

The other two winners in the national auditions were Charles Libove of Brooklyn, who emerged as solo violinist finalist and William Watkins, organist of the New York Avenue Presbyterian church, Washington.

Kinsey Players Come 'Home' To Mansfield for 3 Weeks

The Madge Kinsey Players, popular summer stock company, will return to Mansfield tomorrow to open a three-week engagement.

The players, who have been coming to the city nearly every summer for many years, will appear in a tent at the foot of Walnut street on West First street. Performances will be given at 8:15 p. m.

Opening performance tomorrow will be "Wild Oats."

Larry James has joined the company and will be featured in magic and comedy roles. Another new member of the cast is Miss Doris Field of Chicago, who will play romantic roles.

The Kinseys, now in their 61st year on the road, consider Mansfield their second home. They have played here so often and for such long periods that members of the cast have scores of personal friends in the city.

LARRY JAMES

The players' repertoire includes old favorite dramas, some new ones, comedy, vaudeville and music.

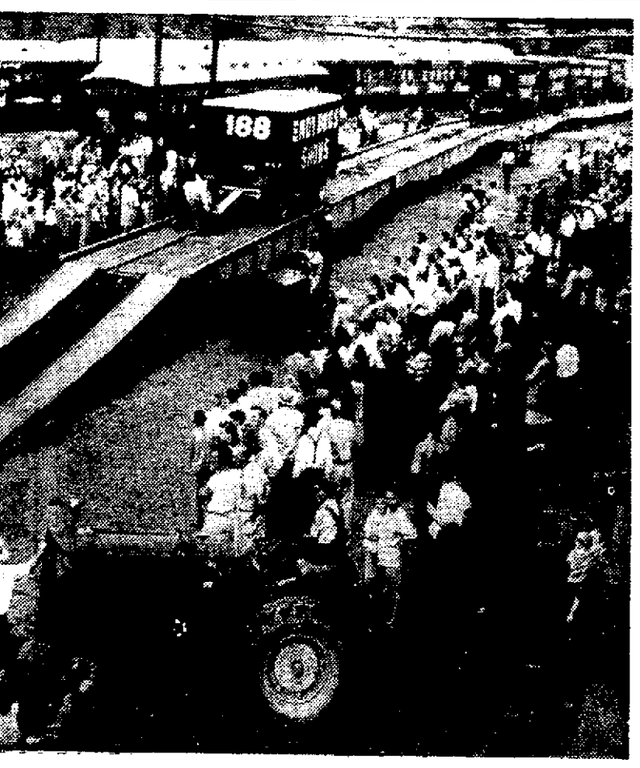
Petticoat Pads Give Invisible Comfort

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Gloria Grahame and Mryna Dell have to ride the springless wooden seat of a buckboard wagon on a bumpy road for scenes of "Roughshod," for RKO. The company spent three days on location in mountain country, and the roughness of the road began to tell on the two young actresses, accustomed to well upholstered autos.

Director Mark Robson couldn't very well put cushions in a farm wagon, But he did the next best thing. He ordered a wardrobe seamstress to sew foam rubber pads into the seats of their voluminous petticoats, thereby providing invisible comfort.

The Rural Electrification administration reports that almost 51 per cent of Tennessee farms now have electric power.



SHOW UNLOADS—This scene will be re-enacted Monday when the Endy Shows arrive on the Pennsylvania railroad for a week's engagement at the Blue Goose lot. The red and gold wagons will be unloaded from the flatcars and hauled to the showgrounds with the array of equipment needed by a big carnival. The show is scheduled to open tomorrow night.

Happenings In Hollywood

Television's Here To Stay, Says Hope

By HOWARD C. HEYN

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Everybody can relax now. Television is here to stay. Bob Hope says so.

Hope is going to add video to his multitudinous activities. He's working on the format now. The Hope program probably won't be ready for telecasting this year, but then again some of those who handle his affairs are getting anxious.

The comedian recalled that when he was appearing with Willie and Eugene Howard in "Ballyhoo of 1932" on the New York stage a group of engineers came to the theater one night and took him away after the performance.

"It was all rather mysterious. We took a subway, and finally climbed some dark stairs to a television laboratory. On a small screen were some moving dots. If you used your imagination a little, you could make out a picture. That was experimental video. They had me step in front of the camera and tell a couple of gags.

"Guess that makes me a veteran, huh?"

Hope went into radio soon after, but not until 1938 did he have his own show. The network was NBC — and still is.

"Little did I know then how much I was going to steal from radio," he said with a sigh. A satisfied sigh.

Hope agrees that what television needs now is top talent. But he doesn't want to rush his own video shows. "It's got to be just right," he said.

He doesn't think that name players will harm the chances of smaller fry already working in the medium, or that vaudeville's revival by virtue of the cathode tube will end abruptly when the stars step in.

"There are lots of channels and lots of spots to be filled. And the daily range of telecasting hours is certain to be expanded."

Hope is working in the Paramount picture "Where Men are Men." His dressing room always has been crowded with agents, sponsors' boys and an army of others waiting for a chance between scenes to discuss plans or to arrange quick jumps by plane for Hope personal appearances. With all the present television talk this horde is increasing daily.

"The funny thing is, they're all busy, they're all doing something that involves me," he said, looking puzzled. "With Bing Crosby it's different. His dressing room is peaceful. I don't know what he does with 'em. As for me, it's reached the point where some of them have to leave before I can find room to arrange my clothes."

Garbo Still Avoids Personal Pronoun

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Actor-Producer Robert Cummings says Greta Garbo has lost none of her famous reluctance to talk about herself.

Cummings has an interest in "The Duchess De Langeais," the film which Garbo reputedly is coming out of retirement to make. Cummings says he has talked to the shy Swedish actress several times recently.

"She showed no sign of being nervous about resuming her career," said Cummings on the set of "Free for All" at Universal-International. "She took part in business discussions and demonstrated a keen sense of humor. But never once did she talk about herself."

"I helped my father build a wall once, in Sweden."

"That" Cummings recalls now, "was the only time I ever heard her utter the word 'I.'"

Studio Removes Burr From Film Dialogue

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — The Orson Welles cinema version of Shakespeare's "Macbeth," only, recently released, has been recalled by Republic for editing and revision of dialog.

Since the setting of Macbeth" in Scotland, Welles had his actors speak their lines in Scottish dialect. But audiences said they couldn't understand what was being said. Most complaints came from Boston.

The picture was finished early in 1948 and previewed in October of that year. Welles produced, directed and starred in it. He's now in Europe, but Republic is changing the dialog anyway.

Novel To Be Filmed By New Movie Firm

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Stage and movie versions of Franz Kafka's novel "The Trail" will be produced in America by a new firm, Kildine Productions, Inc.

Kildine's president is Frank Sundstrom, a screen actor who comes from Sweden. He says his company has purchased the stage rights in English and the world motion picture rights to "The Trail." The transaction included the dramatization written by Andre Gide and Jean-Louis Barrault. Barrault played the leading role in the successful 1974 Paris stage production.

In America, the play will open on the west coast next autumn. A London production is scheduled early in 1950, and a Broadway production in the autumn of 1950. Thereafter Kildine will make a movie of it.

Plastic Stones Cut Film Track Noises

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — On a movie sound track, walking noises sometimes are louder than the dialogue. Technicians at Universal-International now have developed a plastic substitute for flagstone, and they claim that the new product reduces walking noises by one-half.

These interlocking plastic squares were used for the first time in "Free for All." Set builders said several hundred square feet of the synthetic stones—enough to pave the set—were laid in half an hour.

Teen-Agers Boost Dixie Music Culture

BREVARD, N. C. — (AP) — An eager bunch of barefoot, blue-jeaned teen-agers, summer camping near here, is doing the spade work on a southern grown music culture.

A cacaphony of orchestra, choral, voice and instrument echoes through their mountain haven, deep in this heart of the Blue Ridge, blending with the shouts of swimmers and the ping of tennis balls.

Out of this tested combination, its leader is convinced, will come a home-grown Dixie music culture that will take.

"The veneer of imported music has peeled off southern cultural hides like bark off slippery elm," contends native North Carolinian Jim Pfohl, director of the camp. "The south must grow its own performiers, develop its own organizations, to come of age in music."

Transylvania music camp, which Pfohl is directing for the civic, non-profit Brevard Music Foundation, is trying to fill that big order.

Mrs. Henry N. Carrier, a great-granddaughter of showman P. T. Barnum and president of the foundation, believes the camp and its annual post-camp festival has attained a development "as the nucleus of a southern-born music culture of national import."

Growth of the camp during its six years here may justify her optimistic southwide outlook. It is comparable, but not patterned after, the annual high schoolers' music camp at Interlochen, Mich., and Boston Symphony Conductor Serge Koussevitsky's Berkshire camp.

It began with a handful of campers, most of them from North Carolina. It was Pfohl's personal project and he recruited the students from among his contacts as director of music at Davidson college, near Charlotte, N. C.

After two summers of musically successful but financially tight operations, the foundation was formed. It took over the camp and added a music festival.

The camp and its festival have prospered. Enrollment this year is nearly 125 boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18 drawn from ten states.

It's News to Me

By Vivian Ferguson

The Shiloh Baptist Missionary society is giving a program at the church this afternoon at 3 p. m.

The Heavenly Doves of Cleveland, a singing group of women, will appear in a program at Mt. Calvary Baptist church this afternoon at 3 p. m. This program is being sponsored by the Pastor's Aid of the church.

Rev. O. J. Jackson, the pastor, and members of Mt. Herman Baptist church will go to Crestline immediately following morning services today for baptizing.

The Stewardess board of Mitchell Chapel A. M. E. church gave a lawn fete at the parsonage on St. Adams street last Friday evening.

Two young people spoke at a program last Sunday night at Mitchell Chapel A. M. E. church. They were Miss Kathryn Black who spoke on the subject "The Pursuit of Happiness" and Samuel A. Davis who spoke on the subject, "A United Front".

Rev. S. D. Barnes and delegates from Mitchell Chapel attended the A. M. E. Cleveland district Sunday school convention in Toledo, July 26, 27 and 28 at the Warren A. M. E. church. The delegates were the Misses Myrta Barnes, Carolyn Lee and Marybelle Hood.

Charges Filed

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Millard Bell, 39, and Albert A. Howard, 26, were charged with burglary and grand larceny yesterday in the theft of narcotics from University hospital here.

Passport Ring Bared

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Francis E. Walter, D., Pa., announced Saturday that immigration authorities have rounded up almost 75 Hungarians illegally in the United States on papers forged by a Paris passport ring.

Walter, chairman of a House judiciary subcommittee handling immigration legislation, said the Hungarians are now being held on Ellis island in New York harbor. He said that some of them have admitted paying up to $1,500 for fraudulent entrance visas to five Latin American countries.

Some of the Hungarians had genuine Hungarian passports but they were all stamped with fraudulent entry visas to Cuba, Venezuela, Costa Rica, Paraguay, or Honduras, he said.

All of them had genuine transit visas to pass through the United States, he explained. He added that they are detained on the technical charge of overstaying those transit visas.

A transit visa permits a person to stop over in the United States for 29 days while en route to another country.

Speaks Monday In Park Pavilion

Faith Cornwall, of the Unity Church of Christ, Fort Wayne, Ind., will conduct the regular class of the Mansfield Unity center at Johns park pavilion at 8 p. m. Monday.

Low-Cost Housing Development Proposed

On display today for the first time is a new house which may be the forerunner of a low-cost housing development, according to the builder, A. D. Ferris. Neil Robinson is associated in the project as a real estate operator.

Their objective is a subdivision in which new homes would be available in a price range of $5,000 to $7,250.

The new house, located on Cairns road off North Bowman, will be open for public inspection today, Monday and Tuesday, from 1 to 6 p. m. It is a ranch-type structure, 40 by 24 feet, containing a large living room, two medium size bedrooms, kitchen, dinette and utility room, with a garage connected by a breezeway.

There is no basement, but the automatic oil heating system, suspended from the floor, is in a small excavation under the house.

The house is no different in appearance from those of similar plan, but there is one basic difference on which the low-cost factor hinges. The exterior and interior walls, and the roof are all constructed of a material known by the trade name of Homosote. The material is applied to the framework in large sheets, thus reducing construction time and making possible economies reflected in the cost of the completed structure.

Ferris previously built a house of the same material, which was approved by FHA, he stated. Robinson and Ferris are making application for FHA approval on their proposed housing development, but are hopeful that financing can be handled with or without such approval.

The proposed development would be located on a 100 acre tract of land on Cairns road, to be known as Robin Hood village. Being outside the city limits, it is not served by water and sewage lines. Plans call for use of a storage tank supplied from deep wells for water, and the use of septic tanks for sewage.

CONSTRUCTION SPEEDED—Although this house looks like any other, it makes use of one feature which speeds construction. The walls, interior and exterior, and the roof are all made of a material which comes in large sheets. Use of the material cuts down building time. The house, newly completed, is located on Cairns road.

Plans Films On Classics

"Treasure Island" is coming back to the screen along with Irving's "Legend of Sleepy Hollow" and "Cinderella."

These classics, which will be adapted to the movies by Walt Disney, are on the 1949-50 program of RKO Pictures.

The Sleepy Hollow legend will appear as an all-cartoon feature under the title, "The Adventures of Ichabod and Mr. Toad." Bing Crosby will relate and sing the tale of the headless horseman and Basil Rathbone will recount the story of the fabulous Mr. Toad from Kenneth Grahame's "The Wind in the Willows."

"Treasure Island" will be Disney's first all-live action feature production.

Harold Lloyd, the bespectacled comedian of yesterday, will be introduced to a new generation of movie - goers in "Mad Wednesday."

Jane Russell's controversial "The Outlaw" will be released throughout the country as will the Ingrid Bergman - Roberto Rossellini picture, "Stromboli."

Other highlights of the RKO schedule for the new season include "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon," a technicolor western; "Jet Pilot," a story of the newest in air power; "The Man on the Eiffel Tower," being filmed in Paris; "I Married a Communist," starring Laraine Day and Robert Ryan, and a revival of the Hatfield - McCoy feud in "Roseanna McCoy."

Gambler Shuns Burial Publicity

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Gambler Mickey Cohen says he cancelled his proposed flight to New York to attend the burial rites today of his slain lieutenant, Edward (Neddie) Herbert, because of "too much publicity."

Herbert died Thursday from wounds he received July 20 when he, Cohen and two others, including a state-appointed bodyguard for the dapper gambling boss, were ambushed and shot as they stepped from a Sunset strip night spot. The triggermen, who used shotguns loaded with heavy slugs, are still at large.

Hospital Sued In Post Mortem Case

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Cincinnati General hospital and Dr. William Garrett Rice of Springfield, an interne at the hospital, were sued jointly for $25,000 damages by relatives of Mrs. Caroline Herndon who died at the hospital last May 31.

The suit charged that a postmortem was performed on Mrs. Herndon's body without the consent of relatives. The plaintiffs, all Cincinnatians, are daughters and a grandson of the deceased.

Bathtub's Your Best Pal During Heat Wave Period

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — (AP) — In a heat wave your best pal is your bathtub.

A 20 to 30 minute soaking will keep you cooled down for five to six hours.

A good solid meal and light work that gives your legs a little exercise can help, too, contrary to the popular idea that you should stick to lettuce and salads and the armchair.

These hot weather tips and the scientific reasons for them come from Dr. L. P. Herrington, director of research of the John B. Pierce laboratory of hygiene here and research associate professor of public health, Yale university. He is co-author with Dr. C.-E. A. Winslow of a book, "Temperature and Human Life" (Princeton university press) summing up 20 years of research on the problem.

You're comfortable when your skin temperature is about 92 degrees and your internal organs are about 98. Dr. Herrington said. In a heat atttp, your skin temperature may rise to 96 and your internal temperature of 99½.

A cool bath, for up to half an hour, draws out this heat and keeps you feeling cooler for hours.

The heavy meal with meat and potatoes can make you feel better at times, he added, if it's combined with a little leg exercise and sensible clothing. The reason is that when you're hot, more blood is pumped into your legs. They're good radiators for losing heat.

But this additional blood in your legs makes you a bit like a pilot pulling his plane out of a steep dive. He's subjected to several times the normal pull of gravity, and blood drains away from his brain and into his legs. In hot weather the extra blood in your legs is like being under a little more than the normal pull of gravity.

A good meal increases the circulation, and more blood goes in and out of the leg radiators. Pilots are helping by a big meal before being subjected to the gravity pull. But a big meal isn't recommended for people with heart troubles, or people who must sit most of the day.

Being in good physical trim is another hot weather aid. Then your body is more efficient at perspiration, one of its main defenses against heat. The other defense is radiation.

SYSTEM EFFECTIVE

The human body's perspiration cooler is several times as good in cooling effect as a large home refrigerator, Dr. Herrington said. The normal human produces about 100 calories of heat an hour, and gets rid of it in electrical energy, this would be enough juice to keep a 100-watt bulb burning each hour. When you're surrounded by hot air and hot objects, your body has even more heat to get rid of.

Don't try to beat the heat by just sitting still. Light activity is better than heavy work or desk work. Anything that makes you move your legs helps circulate the blood.

Buildings absorb heat during a hot spell, and can stay warm for days after the outdoor temperature drops. Even a rain doesn't cool them much. If you're inside, this heat radiates to you. A fan to circulate the cool air from the outside helps.

Light clothes, cool spots, fans, and air - conditioning are ovbious hot weather aids.

NERVES PLAY PART

But a good part of your trouble in a heat wave may be nervous and psychological, Dr. Herrington said.

Temperature affects posture. In hot weather you tend to slouch. Unconsciously you want to lie down, to offset the feelings from the extra blood flow to the legs. You're more inclined to stick your feet up on a desk.

Your brain doesn't work as well, and you're more likely to make mistakes or suffer accidents than at 70 degrees. You can fight the lethargic feeling, but will pay for it if you do. Your conscience may bother you that you're not doing enough work. The best answer is work with more frequent changes of posture, and a moderate amount of walking.

Ignoring the thermometer can be a real aid. Americans, at least, have a strange attachment to thermometers.

But in all countries, Dr. Herrington says, it seems to be true that psychologically people are often inclined to blame their troubles upon the weather and the heat, or lack of it.

Hurt In Crash

FREDERICK, Md. — (AP) — Maurice D. Murphy, 29, of Berea, O., was seriously injured Saturday, police said, when he fell asleep at the wheel of his car and it crashed into a telephone pole.

Combine Fluff, Ruggedness In Girl's Room

For the millions of American girls between 12 and 15, almost grown up, who demand younglady rooms like their older teenage sisters, interior designers suggest combining feminine fluff with practical ruggedness.

For dainty femininity, a canopied and skirted dressing-table, matching dust-ruffle on the bedspread and swagged window curtains can come first.

Glass tops on dressing-table, desk, bookcases and hobby cabinets make cleaning easy. Washable walls and woodwork also are practical features. An overall plan of white flounces with red fringe and matching red accessories, white woodwork and pastel blue walls will make a beautiful room.

Let the growing girl plan her own room and color scheme. Her suggestions will reflect her own personality, and if given a guiding hint here and there, will hold down future redecoration costs.

Strike Still On In Hawaii

HONOLULU—(AP)—Actiivty in Hawaii's 91-day longshore strike was stepped up Saturday, both along the waterfront and at the conference tables.

A non-union stevedore firm sent off the first cargo to be shipped out since the CIO international longshoremen's and warehousemen's union hit the picket line May 1. An AFL crew manned the freighter.

Two top level industry and labor leaders met for direct peace talks. How they made out was not disclosed. Their conference overshadowed the legislature's efforts to reopen the six strike-plugged Hawaii ports.

Senator Says Colorado Has Enough Uranium For U. S.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Colorado's uranium deposits are ample to supply the nation's vast atomic energy program, Senator Millikin (R-Colo) said Saturday.

Similar assurance came from Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo), who declared there is a "tremendous amount of uranium" in the Colorado plateau country.

Both senators are members of the Senate-House atomic energy committee.

They spoke out separately as the United States prepared to enter into "exploratory conversations" with Great Britain and Canada on a long range program of collaboration in raw materials supplies and exchange of atomic information.

"I have no fear that we cannot secure uranium to operate our Atomic energy plants," Millikin told a reporter.

Given proper price incentives and under efficient organization our domestic supplies available from the Colorado plateau, the surface of which has hardly been touched, will supply a very substantial amount of our needs. And there are other reassuring factors which I am not at liberty to discuss."

At present, the United States gets the great bulk of its uranium — the basic material for atomic weapons—from Canada and the Belgian Congo.

Trustees Seek Fund Transfer

Weller township trustees yesterday filed an application in common pleas court, seeking permission to transfer $2,000 from the general fund to the road and bridge fund.

The trustees passed a resolution July 15, stating the transfer was required for proper maintenance of township roads. The general fund then contained $2,826 while the road and bridge fund had $190, the petition states.

Prefab Firm Claims Bids

Government Work Sought

COLUMBUS — (INS) — The Lustron corporation, which makes porcelain steel pre-fab houses in a war-time bomber plant, expects two big government contracts to help pull it out of its financial hole.

President Carl G. Strandlund of the hugh housing plant, which currently is under investigation by a congressional committee, said his company is low bidder on two big groups of army, navy and other government housing projects, although the contracts have not yet been awarded.

Strandlund was in Washington, where the house banking and currency committee, at the demand of Rep. Smith, Ohio Republican, is delving into the 34 million dollars the reconstruction finance corporation lent Lustron, although there is only about one million dollars of private capital invested.

Strundlund, however, said "there is nothing abnormal" about the huge government loan and added:

"The transaction should not be judged by conventional ideas without reading the emergency housing act under which the loans were made. The act does not require that any private capital be put up."

Smith, however, contended that he believes "there is a limit to how unconventional the RFC can be in lending 34 million dollars or more."

Strandlund said his company used the funds for machinery to stamp out the huge panels for the Lustron home, and that the company now had the bugs out of its program and was ready to produce 6,000 houses this year and 20,000 to 30,000 in 1950. He added:

"That would just about meet our schedule and enable us to start paying off our loans."

Troop Marks Anniversary

Members of Girl Scout Intermediate Troop 44 celebrated their second anniversary at a party Wednesday at the home of their leader, Mrs. John Eliot, 904 Benedict avenue.

During the program members of the troop received their membership stars, one for each year they had been in the troop.

FDR Jr. Will Wed Socialite

NEW YORK — (AP) — Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt jr., (D.-N. Y.) is engaged to marry Suzanne Perrin, blonde 28-year-old New York socialite.

It will be the second marriage for Roosevelt, 34, and the first for Miss Perrin. She is a graduate of Westover school, Middlebury, Conn. She served two years during the war as a member of the Marine Corps Women's Reserve.

Roosevelt, third son of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and the late President, has two children, Franklin D., III., 10, and Christopher, 7, by his first marriage to the former Ethel Du Pont. They were divorced last May.

Modern Look In Bathroom Starts With the Bathtub

When modernizing an old bathroom, start with the bathtub. Cover the sides and legs of the old-fashioned tub with bright-colored panels of plastic or wood painted any desire color.

Elevate the tub by setting the legs on 4-inch wooden blocks. Build two 6-inch-deep drawers in the space beneath the tub. These will provide more storage space, end under-tub dust-catching and make cleaning easy.

Since the bathroom needs sunlight, make the entire outside wall of the bath opaque glass, either in block or sheet form. This affords privacy, admits light.

Make the room gayer with buttercup yellow walls, and accent this color with leaf-green marbleized asphalt tile flooring and touches of the same colors in the draperies.

Save space in the bathroom by fitting one of the new types of clothes hampers between the wall studs. These hampers are recessed into the wall like a medicine cabinet, will hold as much as the conventional hamper, yet project only 3 or 4 inches into the room.

If there are small children, space towel racks one below the other in stair-step effect. Paint the clothes hamper to match floor and towels and carry the same color into the edging of he cottage-type window curtains.

Employes Like Plan

Seventy per cent of the approximately 2,000 employes of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company and their families have enrolled in the Blue Shield surgical care plan, according to Frank Berkey, personnel manager at the plant. The plant enrollment is one of the largest in Mansfield.

The Blue Shield enrollment, Berkey said was conducted by Akron hospital Service, a nonprofit corporation administrating Blue Shield and Blue Cross Hospitalization plan in Richland and five nearby counties.

Blue Shield reimburses its subscribers for doctor's fees. Monthly subscription rates are 60 cents for individuals and $1.90 for an entire family, including all children up to 19 years. Blue Cross prepays hospital bills on a similar plan.

John D. King, AHS enrollement manager, said the only larger Blue Shield enrollment in the Mansfiled area took place during the community enrollment last spring. At that time, anyone in Richland county was eligible to enroll.

A private company Blue Shield enrollment nearly as large as the one at Mansfiled Tire was conducted in 1947-48 at the Ohio Brass company, King said.

Director Resigns

Building Contractors Anticipate Increase in Business

Think FHA Policy Will Aid Housing

Survey Reveals Optimistic Views

The building industry in the Mansfield area is having a good year, with prospects bright for steadily improving business during the next few months, according to opinions expressed by contractors

The increased federal aid under the Federal Housing Administration is one of the main reasons offered for the optimism of most Mansfield contractors. The new FHA provisions make more money available for loans, make the loans easier to obtain and provide increased insurance on loans. All this means more building in the Mansfield area, they believe.

"We are looking forward to quite a pick-up in the building business — at least all indications point that way," a spokesman for the Mansfield Housing company said "We are very busy right now," he added

Laser and Walker Construction company representatives said the building business is a little brighter but added that contractors are making very low bids on public works jobs

Robert Beer, in charge of home building for Laser and Walker, was very optimistic, however He predicted that the FHA provisions will be beneficial in helping prospective home owners get the credit they need.

"I think that we may build many low cost homes in the next few months This is a field that has been virtually untapped," Beer added.

Not all of the contractors, however, were as optimistic Fred Sedore, of the Diamond Construction company, said, "We aren't too busy right now, but we hope that business does pick up"

The future looks fairly good" F Clifton Small of Simon Small and Sons Construction company said "There should be some school building work available soon," Small added

Valentine D Wolf, president of the Jacob Wolf company, said, 'We are fairly busy right now but it is hard to tell how business will be in the next few months As far as we can see, the future looks good '

'We have no complaints at the present time — we are having one of our best years The future looks very good" said J Howard Glasener of the Glasener company.

Credit Bill Goes Higher

WASHINGTON — (AP) — More Americans are saying "charge it' instead of putting out cold cash for purchases

The federal reserve board said yesterday that consumer credit —for the purchase of everything from cars on installments to shoes on the family charge account—topped $16,000 000 000 in June, for the highest figure in history.

These totals were for a period in which there still were government controls over installment purchases. But even with restrictions, which were removed July 1, Americans owed more than $9,000,000,000 for purchases on the installment plan.

The biggest item was a $121,000,000 increase in installment credit for automobiles The public now owes a total of $2,507-000,000 on its cars This is a gain of almost $1,000,000,000 in a year

Total installment debts increased about one-fifth in 12 months

The public owed $3,282 000 000 on its charge accounts, a gain of one per cent in June but about $70 000 000 less than was owed a year ago

Hard Work, But They Like It

2 Brothers Erect Own Plant

The desire, and ability, to work with iron and steel products runs in the family, think the Flaharty boys Paul and Harold Their father James Flaharty had the bent and prior to his death was president of the Mansfield Structural Steel company

As a result of their inclination, plus willingness to work hard even in spare - time hours they now have a flourishing plant devoted to the making of ornamental wrought iron and related items

Three years ago the older brother, Paul, former superintendent of the same firm which his father headed, started the Buckeye Ornamental Products company in a small garage at Ontario

Harold after returning from army service in the 84th Infantry division, completed college and began working for an electrical company in New Jersey. But the urge to get into metal work began to grow in him and a year ago last May he joined his brother in the small firm at Ontario

The two purchased a war surplus building, and began erecting it at the present location of their plant corner of Fern avenue and North Bowman street. They did the construction work themselves, doing it in spare time while they continued their regular work at Ontario Before the end of the year they had made sufficient progress to move into the new building

They are still adding finishing touches in the 40 by 80 foot structure, and will soon have a room at the front corated as a display room and office.

"Use of ornamental iron is on the increase," declared Harold Flaharty 'Most of our items are turned out for new construction jobs, and are usually custom made to meet the specifications of the customer We often work just from a picture which someone has clipped out of a magazine

Home builders have not returned to the use of 'gingerbread grill work popular years ago on house exteriors Now the demand is chiefly for railings and porch columns We also receive requests for duplicates of antique metal pieces such as shoe scrapers There is a demand for wrought iron lawn furniture and lantern posts are having a wave of popularity"

The firm also makes more prosaic items, such as fire escapes and steel stairs, and handles light structural jobs A state - wide sales organization, consisting of dealers and salesmen, has been developed

BUSY BROTHERS — Paul and Harold Flanarty who wanted a plant in Mansfield to house their ornamental iron company, solved the problem by putting up the building themselves in spare time hours Paul, who has charge of the shop work, is shown (top photo) welding an ornamental iron railing Harold, who devotes much of his time to office work and sales, is shown (lower photo) examining a lamp post which is ready for delivery

Arrange Laundry Equipment In Line To Save Steps, Labor

Straight line arrangement of laundry equipment is the greatest labor and step-saver Automatic washers, dryers and ironers are available in flat-topped matching units which fit together side-by-side in six feet of wall space

Place the washer first in line, the dryer next and then the ironer so that clothes move from one unit to the next with minimum effort

Make the laundry bright colorful and cheerful by liberal use of attractive color on walls and ceiling, installation of fluorescent lighting

When modernizing the laundry, take advantage of the opportunity to install wall storage cabinets for soaps brushes, electric iron and other articles near the point where they are most used

Unsolved Crimes Exposed By 'Secret Witness' Plan

CHICAGO — (AP) — A new secret weapon is being wielded in the war against crime

It is the secret witness plan It gives men or women who know something about a crime a chance to turn in their information and collect a reward without revealing their names

The idea has spread rapidly in the last three months It has been put to work against killers in Chicago and Los Angeles, against murderers and ballot burglars in Kansas City, against gunmen in Detroit, against hooded mobsters in Birmingham, Ala

Sponsors — newspapers in some places, groups of citizens in others — have offered a total of $438 000 in rewards None of the money has been passed out yet An informant can't collect until the case ends in conviction

The chief result, so far, has been information Hundreds of letters have been received Many of them offered information that looked helpful In Chicago for instance, 226 letters came in during the first two months Forty-one contained what seemed to be good leads Two of the Chicago cases have resulted in arrests

The Chicago Sun - Times conceived the secret witness plan as a community service. It was sparked by an FBI report that Chicago had 32 murders in 1948 highest number for any city in the U S The starting switch was pulled last May 9

The newspaper ran a series of reviews of unsolved murders — 55 in all It followed up with a full page list of 476 persons who had been slain since 1938 and whose slayers never had been brought to book

The Sun-Times offered to pay $5 000 for information resulting in the conviction of the guilty in each of the first 20 cases solved Deadline for the rewards is July 5, 1950 (The total was increased to $110 000 by $5 000 rewards posted in the slaying of two Gary, Ind, women)

The plan hinged on the hunch that somebody knew something and would tell if secrecy was assured Somebody saw the killer at or near the scene overheard a snatch of conversation, found a clue, caught a glimpse of a license plate Those who knew were directed to do this:

Type or print the facts on plain paper Sign with any number with six digits in it, once in the lower left corner and once in the lower right corner Tear off one of the corners and hide it Mail the letter to P O Box 3444 Chicago

The Sun - Times keeps the original letters Those deemed worthy of investigation are coded, and the copies are turned over to the police

If the information results in conviction, the informant's number will be published Then the informant can send a representative — his clergyman or lawyer, perhaps — to the city editor with his fragment of the letter paper If the pieces of paper and numbers match, the agent will get the reward

So far, the newspaper has been able to report the arrests on two of the murders it reviewed State s Attorney John S Boyle said coded letters provided the clues in both of them. The victims, Herman Engelhard and John Onesto, were elderly men who were killed by robbers last year Five men and a woman are being held for trial on murder charges in the two cases.

A HOUSE SHOULD BE BUILT STRONG

— strong enough to withstand hurricanes, floods and tornadoes. Homes built of Homasote have stood up under all such conditions.

The Big Sheets of Homasote literally "weld" the many individual pieces of the frame construction into one solid unit. The walls act as beams. Even a settling of the ground does not cause cracks.

As the chart indicates, Homasote Big Sheets afford far greater strength with a minimum of lateral displacement, even under maximum stress. This chart is based on tests made by the Research Laboratory, Department of Civil Engineering, Columbia University.

Let us tell you more about this fine insulating and building board, suggest some of its many uses in both modernization and new construction.
